TIMELY RAIN BOON TO STATE'S CROPS

M'Donald Injects Debt Issue Into Economic Conference

WIDE AREA IS BENEFITED BY GOOD SHOWERS

Lincoln Gets .72 of Inch Precipitation—Winter Wheat Chief Beneficiary of Moisture—Fruit Prospects Improved, Pastures and Small Grains Gain.

Heavy rains fell generally over eastern and central Nebraska Sunday night, ending the record-breaking June drouth and heat wave and bringing moisture to the state's crops at a critical time. The rains, however, missed northeast Nebraska and were spotted along the Kansas line and in the far west region.

Unsettled tonight with Tuesday generally fair and warmer was the weather bureau's prediction for Lincoln and the state. The temperature here at 12:30 o'clock Monday afternoon was 76.

Riding in on a 30-mile wind, the storm struck Lincoln shortly before 1 o'clock Monday morning after a day that saw the mercury climb to 96 with a humidity reading of 39 per cent Sunday evening. The weather bureau reported a rainfall here of .72 of an inch. It was the first rain here and in most of the eastern half of the state since May 29, when .18 of an inch fell. A brilliant electric display accompanied the rain and wind.

Improves Corn Prospects.

University of Nebraska college of agriculture experts termed the rain a "boom" for most Nebraska crops. It brought relief to winter wheat, suffering during the past few days, helped prospects for the 1934 fruit crop, improved corn prospects and set back chinch bug infestation.

"Winter wheat was the chief beneficiary," P. H. Stewart, extension agronomist, declared. "Fields that fired previous to the showers Monday were not improved, but the remainder was helped considerably and staved off further damage temporarily."

Corn had not been hurt by the hot weather, and prospects went higher as a result of the rain, Stewart said. The rain undoubtedly helped oats and barley, but these small grains were not hurt as severely as winter wheat, according to Stewart. Alfalfa, hurt but little by

Gold Holders Are Termed Slackers

WASHINGTON, Jun 12—(INS)—Gold hoarders were characterized by Attorney General Cummings today as no better than wartime slackers.

"I have no patience with people who are no more than slackers," Cummings said. "We are trying to win a war against depression and hard times.

"We are seeking to drive the gold out of hiding where it is serving no useful purpose, into the treasury where it can be made the basis for from $15 to $20 in credit—some say more."

Cummings disclosed that about 13,000 names of suspected hoarders have been received from the treasury and that the investigation so far has grouped 95 persons with $660,601 in gold who refuse flatly to turn it in. Their names have been turned over to the criminal division of the department.

Enrollment of 1,212 On Opening Day of N. U. Summer Term

The summer session at the University of Nebraska opened Monday morning with an enrollment considerably below that of a year ago.

Enrollment up to Monday morning totaled 1,212 this summer as compared to 1,730 at the corresponding time a year ago. Officials believed that the spell of hot weather had deterred many from registering. Prospects were that the enrollment Monday of latecomers would be more than a year ago as 100 had registered in the forenoon while only 151 registered during the entire first day a year ago.

Because some school systems close late in the spring there are always many who enter the summer session after the opening of classes. The total enrollment in 1932 was 2,520.

Pre-enrollment for summer school, which is done during the regular school year, totaled 111 tthis year as compared to 106 in 1932. The enrollment for the engineering camp at Ashland is 28 this year, one less than a year ago.

Enrollment on the first day a year ago was 1,054 and this year it was 705. The second day enrollment showed a similar decline from 541 to 268.

Prof R. D. Moritz is director of the summer session. The faculty includes many of the regular teaching force and a number of others. Both six and eight week sessions are given.

NEW FIGHT IS LAUNCHED FOR VET BENEFITS

Cutting Urges Substitute for House-Administration Compromise.

WASHINGTON, June 12—(AP)—Again the veterans compensation dispute flared today in the senate, as the first of at least three vital questions which the democratic leadership is determined to have settled in time for adjournment by midweek.

Senator Cutting, republican, New Mexico, put forth a substitute for the veterans economy compromise agreed upon between the administration and the house.

Attempts were ahead to vote by nightfall, with possibly another night session should the senate be ready to go into the conference report on the industrial control bill or the more than $3,000,000,000 appropriation for public works.

A resolution authorizing the judiciary committee to investigate bankruptcy and receiership proceedings in federal courts was adopted by the house 125 to 29.

Conferees seeking to reconcile the Glass and Steagall bank reform bills sighted a compromise, with resultant predictions of senate and house final passage of the legislation.

An investigation of the tax system by a sub-committee of the ways and means committee came closer today with authority given by the committee to Chairman Doughton to appoint an inquiry group.

With the veterans dispute still flaming, a newer obstacle to adjournment crystallized into definite resolutions today in the senate.

Senators McNary of Oregon and Borah of Idaho, both republicans, brought in resolutions seeking to block the effectiveness of that part of President Roosevelt's reorganization order which would reduce by 25 per cent the fund for agricultural extension work.

In the house, where there was nothing to do until the senate had acted, leaders drew up a rule to insure that there would be no upset in their plans to adjourn the house subject to the call of the speaker.

C. OF C. DRIVE IN FULL SWING

200 New Members Is Goal of Campaign Workers.

The chamber of commerce "O. K. co-operation campaign" was in full swing Monday, with upwards of 100 business and professional men making a canvass which, they hope, will go a long way toward "whipping the depression in Lincoln." The campaign will close Thursday night. By that time it is expected at least 200 new members will be added to the roll of the chamber of commerce, along with a large number of life and sustaining members.

Progress of the drive will be reported each morning at a breakfast to be held at the chamber at 7 o'clock. Dana Cole, general chairman, will be in charge.

While the workers are making their drive, the members of the chamber board of directors will be enrolling the life and sustaining members. They will work in groups of two each.

As part of the "O. K. co-operation" move, men in all walks of life are being invited to visit the chamber each noon, have lunch and become acquainted with the activities of the organization. "The more frequently they visit the chamber, the better the officers will like it." Dana Cole said Monday. "We want every man in Lincoln to know what is being planned for the future, by listening to the talk at the tables and in the lounging rooms. The chamber is not a playboys' club. It is the meeting place of men who have not gone stale; men who won't be licked; men who are going to find a way out—for Lincoln."

Wheat Prices At Highest of Year

CHICAGO, June 12—(AP)—Reports of heavy damage to the ripening wheat crop by the recent heat wave, coupled with strength in the stock market, drove wheat prices to the highest levels of the season today. The advance carried all deliveries to new highs with both the September and December deliveries at 80 cents or above, the latter touching 82g cents. The net advance ranged from a cent to 1½ cents a bushel. Other grains were not so much affected, although oats were ¾ cent higher, also because of damage from the heat.

TWO ARRESTED AS URGE 'STRIKE' FOR CASH WAGE

Burleigh and Hazelrigg Jailed, Asked Jobless To Demand Cash.

Robert Burleigh, 29, and Norman Hazelrigg, 29, were being held in the city jail without charges Monday after their arrest while urging other unemployed to refuse to work unles sthey are paid in cash instead of groceries.

Burleigh and Hazelrigg were arrested shortly before 10 o'clock while they were talking to fifteen men in front of the county store, Seventh and P streets. Burleigh was displaying a banner which read "Stop Forced Labor Slavery." The men said their action was an outgrowth of a protest meeting attended by several hundred in Antelope park Sunday afternoon.

Burleigh and Hazelrigg said they had intended to contact unemployed as they came to the store in an effort to get them to stop working until the city granted their demands.

Action Awaits Towles Return.

County Attorney Max Towle, ordered the men held until he returned from Omaha, where he is attending a Lions club convention. According to Chief of Police W. C. Condit, Towle expects to file charges against them, probably of inciting to riot.

Interviewed in jail, Burleigh and Hazelrigg asserted they are limited in their buying at the store and are not given value received on the ticket earned by their labor. They ask for a cash settlement on the same basis as city laborers — about thirty cents an hour. They declared the county had illegally contracted for a certain number of hours work with the city in return for a $20,000 loan.

"It's making slaves out of us all," Burleigh said. "I'm not going to Flier So Tired He Sleeps Before Giving Officials Word Of Plans.

MOSCOW, June 12—(AP)—Jimmie Mattern caught up on badly needed sleep today at Khabarovsk, Siberia, while his plane was being prepared for the trans-Pacific hop of his flight around the world.

So tired was the American when he landed at that east Siberian town at 3:20 a. m. Sunday (6:20 p. m., Saturday, Lincoln time) after losing his way from Beloye that he immediately went to sleep and gave officials no change to ask about his plans.

No reports had been received here up to noon today as to the time for his takeoff for Nome, Alaska, but it was learned that heavy weather lay ahead of him on his way to Kamchatka peninsula, northeast of Khabarovsk.

Across the intervening Sea of Oksotsk as far as the town of Petropavlovsk, on the southern tip of the peninsula, northern winds blew last night and early today.

WATER ZONING PLAN STUDIED

Council Debates Methods Of Handling Pressure Difficulties.

Members of the city council Monday were discussing the advisability of dividing the city into sections with a view to imposing regulations in connection with the use of water on lawns. The suggested plan that seems to meet with most favor calls for the setting up of four districts, in each of which water will be available for lawns at different hours.

Whether this will be done will depend largely upon how the proposal is accepted by Paul W Doerr, head of the water department, who is not in the city being away at the national convention of superintendents of municipal water departments, and will not return before Wednesday.

The proposed change will not be made because of any lack of water, it was emphasized. The supply is ample, Mayor Fleming declared. The real need is to so arrange the use, so that there will be pressure at the higher levels. Later, extensions of mains will cure the problem.

Commissioner Oberlies said that Saturday evening and Sunday he had complaints that in some places people were without water.

In an effort to help relieve the situation, the reservoir at the Van Dorn pumping station has been drained into the Lake street lakes, and is being filled again with Ashland water. As this is distributed through the pupms there, it will be filled again after midnight.

BRITON SPRINGS A SURPRISE AT WORLD PARLEY

Prime Minister Tells Delegates From 66 Nations Something Must Be Done About War Obligations Without Delay—Americans Inclined to Resent Action.

LONDON, June 12 — (AP) —Great Britain is making a new move tonight, reported in government circles to involve a proposal of a small "token" payment to the United States toward the Thursday installment, to bring the war debts discussion to a crisis.

The move follows the surprising declaration of Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald at the opening of the world economic conference this afternoon that the war debts problem must "be settled once for all and without delay." An installment totalling $75,950,000 falls due Thursday.

Hitherto the "token" payment idea has not been broached in a formal note to Washington, official quarters in Whitehall affirmed, but it was understood that Ambassador Sir Ronald Lindsay mentioned it in the course of his discussions with the white house.

The context of a British note which is being dispatched tonight, it was said, will be based upon information received from the ambassador as to its probable reception.

The Italian quarters said their government had virtually decided to adopt whatever war debt policy Great Britain follows regarding the $13,500,000 payment due from Italy to the United States on Thursday.

The British note, which was being written tonight, probably will be cabled before midnight. It is be-

CONFERENCE HALL, LONDON June 12—(AP)—Without, warning to the American delegation, the controversial war debt issue was injected today into the world economic conference, which was opened with emphatic appeals for harmony by King George V and Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald.

It was the prime minister himself who raised the question of the war debts. He told the delegates from 66 nations, assembled in what he described as perhaps the greatest international conference ever held, that something must be done about the debts without delay.

Mr. MacDonald called for settlement of "this vexed question once for all in the light of present world conditions."

Some feeling was evident among the United States delegates that this bringing in of the debts, specifically excluded from the conference by the Washington government, was not in good taste and might stiffen sentiment in the United States against revision.

The prime minister made a strong call for co-ordinated international action to put an end to the depression which has cost 30,000,000 workers their jobs and has cut the value of international trade in two.

Currency Stabilization Seen.

As the meeting was adjourning until tomorrow, it was predicted that stabilization of the major currencies within a wide range would be the first definite accomplishment of the conference.

High financial authorities close to the British delegation expressed this expectation, basing it on a reported agreement earlier in the day among American, British and French representatives who met at the British treasury.

The conference was opened by

ROOSEVELT MUM ON DEBTS ISSUE

MacDonald's Surprise Move Fails to Break President's Silence.

WASHINGTON, June 12—(AP)—Prime Minister MacDonald's surprise war debts declaration today at the opening of the London economic conference failed to break the silence of President Roosevelt on that international topic.

Mr. Roosevelt, who is dealing with the war debts issue personally and with the debtor nations separately, apparently has no intention of saying anything until he knows what they are going to do on Thursday, the semi-annual pay day.

It is insisted here that no formal offers save been received from the debtors and therefore no formal statement or reply to the discussions abroad will be made.

BOY CONFESSES KILLING MOTHER

Michigan Youth Tells Prosecutor of Beating Parent to Death.

FLINT, Mich., June 12—(AP)—Prosecuting Attorney Andrew J. Transue announced today that Balfe MacDonald, 17, admitted killing his mother, Mrs. Grace B. MacDonald, last May 27 by beating her to death with a pair of heavy book-ends.

The admission Transue said, was made after the youth, just returned here from Nashville, Tenn., where he was arrested last week, had been questioned for two hours in the Oak street police station.

The prosecution quoted MacDonald as saying he stayed in the house for 20 minutes after he struck his mother getting what money he could find and then left. The prosecutor did not say whether young MacDonald told him he knew his mother was dead at the time he left the house.

HULL OUTLINES PLAN OF ATTACK ON HIGH TARIFFS

All Going Up Together, Or All Going Down, Says American.

LONDON, June 12—(AP)—An exposition of the American viewpoint shortly before the world economic conference opened today gave four specific ways for attacking high tariffs, and expressed faith that some progress will be made of a reasonably satisfactory nature"

Secretary of State Cordell Hull head of the American delegation, told a score of newspaper correspondents from various nations that he believed this generation is just a little more capable of grappling with these difficulties than any that has gone before"

The specific tariff proposals Hull said the conference might consider are

First general revision simultaneously through various governments and parliaments

Second, a small horizontal reduction as a preliminary step

Third, regional agreements between neighbor nations, such as that in effect between Holland, Belgium and Luxembourg

Four, purely bilateral tariff bargaining

All these methods, he said might well contemplate the most favored nation doctrine and as few conditions as necessary

All in Same Boat.

Of paramount importance at the outset, Hull maintained, is for the nations to agree on as many different methods of attacking the barriers as possible He personally favors any or all which will be most acceptable and effective, he said

The secretary said an agreement on tariffs must be carried out gradually, but the mere fact that enlightened nations had agreed would have a tremendously valuable psychological effect immediately

In conclusion, Hull asserted that "we are all in the same boat, we are all going up together or all going down"

Secretary of State Orestes Ferrara of Cuba told an Associated Press representative today that he would propose to the conference a "prudent' reduction in tariffs designed to cut off 'the peaks" among the world's trade barriers.

A Modern Tragedy

Sickening Not Terrifying

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

There are tragedies, real and modern, that make fiction seem feeble James McGuire, Pittsburgh policeman, heard, on the radio 'child in serious condition at Magee hospital. Blood transfusion needed. Any patrolman wishing to offer self, proceed at once to hospital."

McGuire said to his mate, touring the city in search of criminals, "that's tough,' and hurried to the hospital

Doctors tried his blood. found it had just the quality needed by the baby and no wonder

When McGuire approached the baby, his arm washed with alcohol, ready for puncture he saw an infant, prematurely born, in the arms of his own wife, and the baby was his son, his fifth child.

McGuire gave more than a pint of his blood, showing the desperate need of the infant, and returned to work, listening at each police radio station for any further call. There was none The child was dead

Mr Robinson of Arkansas, democratic leader in the senate, says the persecution of Jews in Germany "is sickening and terrifying." Sickening, because of their brutality. yes, terrifying, no.

There is nothing new in the Hitler persecution, nothing to be compared in "terror" with the brutalities of former days, nothing that Jewish resourcefulness and courage will not overcome

When eight hundred Jews were burned, one after the other, at one time, because they refused to deny their religion, when an old Jew endured horrible tortures, at intervals, for six months, finally dying under torture, rather than destroy others by testifying falsely, you might call that "terrifying."

The congressional committee investigating the loss of the Akron, due to management of men that lacked long dirigible experience, demands replacement of the Akron and declares officially "administration of lighter than air ships, by the navy should insure continuity of personnel and experience Only fully trained officers of wide experience should be in command of airships"

The navy shows its respect for congressional opinion by removing Commander Wiley from airship service to routine duty on board a light cruiser, in obedience to the rule that officers shall be sent on sea duty, after a certain amount of "shore duty"

The navy person that calls airship work "shore duty" should be stuffed, after death, and shown in the natural history museum with the extinct Dodo on one side, the Great Auk, on the other side

President Roosevelt can learn from his courageous air-minded wife who recently flew 6,000 miles in five days and knows from his own great flying experience that flying in the air is not exactly "shore duty"

Davis Says Not Guilty To Charge of Lottery; Trial Set For July 10

NEW YORK, June 12—(AP)—United States James J. Davis, of Pennsylvania pleaded "not guilty" to a new indictment in the Moose lottery case today. Trial date was set tentatively for July 10.

The new indictment was handed up to Judge William Bondy about 10 minutes after Davis arrived in the courtroom accompanied by one of his attorneys, Joseph E. Davis of Washington, D. C. The new presentment superseded an old indictment on which Davis was tried last fall. The trial was abortive because of the indiscretion of a juror.

The senator leaned heavily upon a cane as he pleaded. Named in the same indictment and also pleading not guilty, was Theodore F. Miller, head of the Moose propagation department.

"I have not approved (this marriage) for reasons of family tradition." Alfonso is said to have told the Neue Freie Press. "Not only is my son not entirely well, but the lady he wishes to marry has spent the past few years in Swiss sanatoria. Should my son nevertheless marry against my approval, he would necessarily relinquish his title and rank."

Thrill Seekers

KANSAS CITY, June 12—(AP)—Charles Kuhelm, 17, and Lyle Sledge, 18, got a special thrill out of the American Air Race association meet which thrilled hundreds here yesterday.

White-lipped, the boys were captured by police when they staggered from the plane as it landed.

"I didn't mind the loops so much," said Sledge. "It was the barrel rolls that got me."

Police decided the boys had been punished enough in the air.

By the World FORGOT

A New Serial by Ruby M. Ayres

"You Look Like a Robin," Nicholas Said.

SYNOPSIS: Everyone has deserted Nicholas Boyd, the famous film star, excepting, apparently, Georgie Bancroft—and Nicholas is not interested in Georgie. He has played the hero once too often, and received a battered face and a lame leg as his reward. Now his contract has been cancelled and Bernie Boyd, his wife, has refused to sail with him to an obscure life in England. He complains bitterly to Georgie, on the ship, because of the world's unkindness to its fallen stars.

Chapter Six.

SENTIMENTAL CHILD.

THERE was a long silence; Nicholas was looking away from her, straight ahead of him with moody eyes, then presently Georgie said:

"You ought not to say things like that; everyone doesn't pass by on the other side."

"No," he agreed bitterly. "Some of them stop to stare and to say: 'Poor devil, behold how the mighty are fallen.'"

"And some of them," Georgie said, "stop as you did in the picture and say: 'You've still got me.'"

"Do they? I've never met anyone like that."

There was another little silence, then Georgie said, almost timidly: "You've met me."

"You!" he said scornfully. "You're only a child, a sentimental child who knows nothing of the world."

"Just now you said I wasn't a child."

"I was mistaken; you're just a baby who ought not be allowed out alone."

"But I'm always alone," she insisted gently. "All my life I've been practically alone."

"I suppose you've got friends."

She shook her head. "Not many. I know people, of course, but there isn't anyone I'd die for, if you mean that."

His fleeting smile came again. "Sometimes it's easier to die for people than to live for them," he said sombrely.

Then suddenly he sat upright, carefully lowering his lame leg to the deck. "Well, it must be nearly lunch time," he said.

"Can I talk to you again some time?" Georgie asked.

"It seems beyond my power to prevent you," he answered.

"But you don't mind?" she urged, anxiously.

"As long as you don't try the kissing experiment on me," he said cynically.

Georgie smiled. "It wouldn't be necessary," she answered.

"What does that mean?" he asked.

"Only that I know already that I like you—awfully."

For a moment he stood looking at her, and she asked quickly:

"What are you thinking about?"

"I am wondering if you are as innocent as you look," he answered rather brutally.

"I don't know what that means."

"Then you probably are," he answered shortly, and without another word he turned away and left her.

"WHY do you always wear that color?" Nicholas Boyd asked.

Georgie glanced down at her frock, a fluffy crimson affair that fell in soft folds to her ankles and was cut away at the neck and arms. "I like it," she said simply. "Don't you?"

"You look like a robin," Nicholas said.

They were sitting in a corner of the Winter garden, and in the distance the band was playing. As usual, it was Georgie who had sought out Nicholas, not he who had looked for her.

"I love robins," Georgie said, in a pleased little voice. We get lots where I live."

She moved her little feet beneath the scarlet frock in time to the gay music.

"Why don't you go and dance?" Boyd said abruptly.

"Because nobody has asked me." Georgie answered frankly. "At least not anyone I should care to dance with. Nelly introduced me to a man, but I hated the way he looked at me and so I wouldn't dance with him. He's dancing with Nelly now."

"And doesn't she mind the way he looked at her?"

"I suppose not."

She leaned back in her chair, one bare arm curled above her head and Boyd watched her critically.

He had grown used to her now; during the last four days she had appeared beside him so many times, quietly taking it for granted that he was pleased with her company, that he had given up trying to avoid her, though sometimes he did not answer when she spoke to him, and sometimes he forgot that she was there.

HER arms and throat were rather brown, adding truth to Boyd's fancy that she looked like a robin, but where the crimson frock fell away there was a glimpse of white skin, soft like a child's.

She looked about seventeen, Nicholas thought, and yet there had been times during their strange friendship when she had talked to him almost like a woman of the world, a woman to whom life was a stern reality of which one might not make a jest.

At other times she was laughing and almost frivolous, making him feel as if he were an old, tired man, standing aside watching the world go by.

He said suddenly, "The day after tomorrow we shall be at Southampton."

"Yes—isn't it hateful?"

"Hateful? No! I shall be glad."

"Will you?" she looked at him rather wistfully. "I suppose you've got people to meet you," she hazarded.

"No."

It was strange that though Georgie had told him so much about herself and her own life, she had never once discovered anything about him.

"I should like to go on like this forever," Georgie said.

"Like what?"

She waved expressive hands.

"Like this: on the ship, doing nothing in particular but just quite happy."

He took a cigarette case from his pocket and offered it to her.

"Will you smoke?"

"I'll have one of my own. I don't like the kind you smoke."

She dived into a little bag in her lap and produced a battered silver case, which looked as if it might once have belonged to a man.

When she laid it down again Nicholas stretched out a hand and took it from her lap.

"Has this been through a revolution, or what?" he asked idly.

"It was my father's," Georgie said. "He was killed in the war." She stifled a sigh. "I believe he was the only person in the world who ever really loved me, or who ever will."

Georgie gets a present, tomorrow.

Leadership, Not Control, Hope of U. S., Says Mills

CANTON, N. Y., June 12—(AP)—Government leadership rather than control is the hope of America, said Ogden L. Mills, secretary of the treasury under former President Hoover, in an address at the commncement day exercises of St. Lawrence university today.

The man generally regarded as the outstanding spokesman of the Hoover school of economic thought, in the course of his address, said:

"There is not one man or any group of men living who can visualize, much less direct, the millions of small streams that, merging into a mighty river, constitute the economic life of this nation."

"I still favor life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness as contrasted with the five-year plan."

"The destruction of representative government is too high a price to pay for an efficiency that has yet to be demonstrated."

While "experiment and trial are neccessary if we are to move forward," he said, "I cannot believe, as so many apparently do, that a disregard of experience constitutes wisdom, and a jettisoning of firmly established traditions and standards is essential to progress. I am confirmed in this belief by observing that nearly all of the most brilliant so-called innovations have been tried in one form or another by previous generations of supposedly less enlightened men."

Correct this sentence: "He gives half of his income to his people," said the wife, "and that seems fair."

NEBRASKA RAIL REVENUE FALLS

Net Income Decline For Last Year Figured At 38 Per Cent.

Gross revenue of Nebraska railroads declined 30.4 per cent in 1932 from the total of the previous year according to statistics compiled by W. N. Ochsner, assistant rate clerk of the state railway commission. The carriers cut their operating expense 27.3 per cent in the same period, but the net revenue showed a decline of 38 per cent.

Passnger revenue has declined much more than freight revenue. The decrease from 1931 to 1932 in passenger revenue was 36.2 per cent compared to 30.4 per cent drop in freight revenue. The comparison between 1920 and 1932 is even more startling, passenger revenue dropping off 82.1 per cent and freight receipts falling 48.1 per cent.

A comparison of freight and passenger revenue for various years follows:

	Freight	Passenger
1920	$83,496,326	$23,230,897
1924	81,169,399	15,569,185
1923	84,386,886	11,402,231
1929	83,303,126	11,004,173
1930	77,911,185	8,955,001
1931	62,191,803	6,526,700
1932	43,411,719	4,160,902

Since 1920 the railroads have cut their operating expenses 62.2 per cent while thier revenue have decreased 55.5 per cent. The net revenue has declined 7 per cent from 1920 to 1932. Oschner explains that the net revenue figures given, showing $13,322,034 in 1932, are not final profit figures because such items as taxes, uncollectible revenues and other items remain to be deducted.

The total revenue and expense figures follow:

	Revenue	Expense
1920	$118,800,742	$104,480,741
1924	106,341,515	74,496,932
1923	105,180,947	72,081,917
1929	104,055,494	72,314,227
1930	95,537,240	65,770,761
1931	75,893,384	54,400,890
1932	52,847,571	39,525,537

The net revenue figures follow: 1920, $14,320,001; 1924, $31,843,583; 1928, 33,099,030; 1929, 31,741,267; 1930, 29,766,478; 1931, 21,492,493; and 1932, 13,322,034. Little change in the taxes paid to the state by the railroads is found, the decrease in 1932 from 1931 being 6 per cent but from 1920 only 2.6 per cent. Taxes paid to the state amounted to 4,015,016 in 1932.

TRUCKS GAINING IN STOCK LOADS

Motor Carriers Nearly Equal Railroad Haul To Omaha Market.

Truck shipments of livestock to the South Omaha market have increased until last year they nearly equalled those by rail, statistics prepared by the state railway commission reveal.

The report shows a big decrease in 1932 of the total receipts of livestock at the Omaha market. The number received in 1930 was 8,392,922; in 1931, 8,739,996; and in 1932, 6,938,714.

In 1930 the railroads brought in 71.2 per cent of all the livestock received at the market, in 1931 this percentage dropped to 63.6 and in 1932 the railway shipments were but 52.4 per cent of the total.

The greatest gain of the truckers over their competitors was in the hauling of hogs to market. In 1930 the trucks brought in 46.8 per cent of the shipments, in 1931 the percentage was 58.1 while last year it was 70.7 per cent. The truckers hauled 61.1 per cent of the cattle, calves and hogs last year as compared to 59.7 the previous year and 40 per cent in 1930.

The railroads continue to get the bulk of shipments of sheep, horses and mules. However the percentage of sheep shipped by rail has decreased from 87.5 per cent in 1930 to 83.2 per cent in 1931 and 77.9 per cent in 1932. The railroads got 80.7 per cent of the shipments of horses and mules in 1932 as compared to 75.4 per cent the previous year and 78.8 per cent in 1930.

The railroad and truck receipts of the various classes of livestock for 1932 as compiled by Assistant Rate Clerk W. N. Ochsner, follow:

	Railway Receipts	Truck Receipts
Cattle	781,156	541,952
Calves	68,506	51,356
Hogs	901,323	2,176,572
Sheep	1,861,425	527,014
Horses and Mules	15,656	3,753
All livestock	3,638,067	3,330,647

Rev. Heinz's sermon in the morning was preached in German, while Rev. Lightner spoke in English during the evening. The children's groups presented a program at 2 o'clock of band and choir music, which was followed by drills and pageants.

BRITAIN READY TO MAKE A NEW WAR DEBT MOVE

lieved it will echo Mr. MacDonald's pronouncement before the conference this afternoon that while the war debt sobviously cannot be taken up by the conference itself, they "must be dealt with before every obstacle to general recovery has been removed."

(A "token" payment by the British of the debt due the United States would involve the transfer of an amount less than the installment falling due. It would be tantamount to acknowledgement that the payment was due and that Britain recognized the validity of the American claim. There have been suggestions that various amounts in silver be transferred from the London government to Washington as "token" payment.)

NEW FIGHT IS LAUNCHED FOR VET BENEFITS

ers drove for adjournment, Senator Cutting, republican, New Mexico, today opened a fight for a substitute for the house-administration compromise on relief payments to former soldiers.

In taking the floor to urge the substitute, which he is advocating with Senator Steiwer, republican, Oregon, Cutting told colleagues he intended to move to insruct senate conferees on the independent offices bill containing the veterans provision "to insist" on the substitute proposal.

The Cutting-Steiwer plan seeks to stipulate by law some of the promises contained in President Roosevelt's letter to the house democratic steering committee to take care of the so-called presumptive cases, and provides that reductions to veterans injured in service shall be limited to 25 per cent, as originally approved by the senate.

One basic difference between the house-approved compromise and Cutting-Steiwer proposal is that the latter specifies that no compensation Spanish-American war veterans or dependents were receiving before the economy law became effective March 20 shall be cut more than 25 per cent, regardless of any provision of the economy law.

Would Remove Requirement.

This is intended to remove the requirement that Spanish war veterans prove their injuries, ailments or disabilities originated in service.

"The only guarantee we have concerning the Spanish-American war veterans," Cutting said, "is contained in a letter from the president to the special democratic committee of the house."

In this letter, President Roosevelt promised to care for Spanish American veterans by regulation.

"It requires no argument to show that that means little or nothing," Cutting went on. "When the economy act was originally passed, we were assured justice would be meted out to those who served their country."

"We have a promise that regulations would be issued that would give some assistance—some assistance—to Spanish American war veterans," Cutting said.

He added that because of lost records this class of veterans was "unable to prove" their injuries originated in service.

WIDE AREA IS BENEFITTED BY GOOD SHOWERS

the drouth, also was improved along with pastures.

Raspberries Aided.

The rain was too late to be of aid to the strawberry crop, but raspberries benefitted, E. H. Hoppert, extension horticulturist declared. Chinch bug infestation in the eastern section should receive a set back as a result of the rain, Prof. Myron Swenk, head of the entomology department believes. Infestation in Lancaster and Seward counties is fairly heavy and more rain will prove further disastrous to the pest, he declared.

County Agent J. F. Purbaugh Monday estimated that the heat wave caused 75 per cent damage to oats and barley and 50 per cent damage to wheat in Lancaster county.

The county agent expressed the opinion, on the other hand, that the corn has been aided rather than injured. "Corn sometimes gets such a luxuriant growth early in the season under favorable weather conditions that it is unable to stand any heat later in the summer," he explained. "Corn that has been toughened up under conditions such as these of the past ten days will stand much hot weather and drouth later in the summer."

Damage to pastures, sudan grass and other crops has been heavy, Purbaugh stated, but these crops may be expected to recover to a considerable degree if future weather conditions are not too severe.

Covers Wide Area.

Burlington reports indicated the general character of the rains. The fall between Lincoln and Ravenna measured from a half inch to an inch and a half. From Oakland in the northeast to Ashland, the fall measured from showers to a half-inch. A half-inch fell in the Loup City area. Falls City in the southeast corner of the state received a quarter of an inch; Tecumseh received three-fourths of an inch; Wymore and Table Rock from an inch to an inch and a half.

An inch of rain fell at Max in Dundy county, the Burlington reported. Light rains fell at Benkelman, Red Cloud, Orleans, Oxford and McCook and along the Alliance division.

Seward received an inch of rain, Friend a half-inch and Ashland .30 of an inch, the Lincoln Telephone Co. said.

Other reports to the telephone company were: Wahoo, light showers; York, .79 of an inch; David City, .25; Fairmont, one inch; Tecumseh, .86; Nebraska City, .70; Plattsmouth, light showers; Auburn, .38; Fairbury, .10.

The weather bureau's rainfall report for the past forty-eight hours follows: Alliance, .09; Ashland, .35; Auburn, .38; Broken Bow, .41; Columbus, .03; Culbertson, .23; Fairbury, 19; Fairmont, 1.11; Grand Island, 70; Hastings, .90; Holdrege, .09; North Loup, .60; North Platte, .50; Omaha .02; Red Cloud, .06; Tekamah, .02.

Accordingto the Associated Press, Kearney received an inch and a half of rain and North Platte reported rain falling there during the morning.

BOY CONFESSES KILLING MOTHER

was found in her bedroom at 8 a. m., May 27, by two house servants. Her head had been crushed with two book ends which were found under the pillow.

Search for the youth began immediately when it was learned he and a companion, William Terwilliger, 16, had left the city at about 4 a. m., after buying gasoline at a station not far from his home.

The two were under arrest in Nashville for four days on a charge of attempted extortion before their identity was learned.

Chief of Detectives Edward F. Tewhey said the slaying of Mrs. MacDonald followed a quarrel with the youth about 3 o'clock the morning of May 27 over her threat to send him to a reformatory, and financial matters.

Tewhey said prior to MacDonald's statement Terwilliger declared the first information he had of the killing was obtained from a newspaper in Louisville. He confronted MacDonald with the newspaper account, Terwilliger said, and the youth admitted the slaying.

"Are you glad to get this off your chest?" a newspaperman asked MacDonald.

"It's still there," he replied.

Later he was asked whether he wanted to send out any word to his friends.

"Tell them I'll be out next week and see them," he said.

ing all right just before the accident. He swam across the stream and was halfway back when she noticed his body start to drift with the current. In a few seconds and without a single cry for help, it dropped from sight.

Lincoln Youths Give Aid.

Charles Fiske and Charles Flansburg of Lincoln were cruising nearby in a motorboat with Frank Musgrave of Omaha. The first two began diving at once and sent Murgrave to Horky's park about a mile away, for help.

Herzog had gone to Crete on a picnic earlier in the day with Mrs. Stough, her eleven-year-old son Arthur, Mr. and Mrs. George Lester, and Mrs. Mary Knox, mother of the other two women. Herzog had made his home with the others at the Knox home on Touzalin avenue.

All except Mrs. Stough and her son had departed when the tragedy occurred. The Stoughs had intended to return with Herzog.

Herzog was a good swimmer and the city physician based his assumption of a heart attack on the fact that little water was found in either the lungs or stomach.

The victim's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Herzog, live on a farm near Chambers, Neb.

Herzog was employed as store manager in the biology department at the University of Nebraska, having lived in Lincoln for fifteen years.

Funeral services will be held at the Castle, Roper and Matthews' chapel in Havelock at 3.15 o'clock Monday afternoon, Rev Homer Deadman officiating. Further services and interment will be in Chambers Tuesday afternoon.

NINE ARE KILLED AS WORLD'S FAIR PLANE CRASHES

Victims Burned Beyond Recognition; Three Unidentified.

CHICAGO, June 12—(AP)—A huge twin-motored amphibian airplane, The Northern Light, plunged 600 feet to earth, carrying to death nine persons, including seven holiday-bent visitors to the Chicago world's fair. Seven of the victims of the crash yesterday afternoon were men. Two were women.

Sudden heavy winds crumpled one wing of the big ship sending it plunging into a field near suburban Glenview. Flames from the gasoline supply, which exploded, shot high into the air, driving back rescuers, and burning the victims beyond recognition. Six of them had been positively identified early today. They were:

Edward M. Fay, Chicago.

Captain Carl V. Vickery, 36, pilot of the plane.

Harry Jacobs, 33, his mechanic, of Wheeling, Ill.

Joseph G. Robinson, 21, of 565 Fifth avenue, New York, a junior at Washington and Lee university.

Edward G. Schaller, 22, of Storm Lake, Ia., a junior at the University of Chicago.

Miss Stephanie Ogorek, 20, of Chicago.

Others Partially Identified.

On cards found on other victims were the following names and addresses were found:

Ida Goodwin, New York (information from Gail Noll, of Missoula, Mont., whose name also was found on a letter, indicates that Mrs. Goodwin, 47, of New York and her son, Dean, a New York aviator might have been on the plane.)

A card bearing the name of Mrs. E. G. Trainor, 5114 Post Road, New York. (It was learned that a Dale Goodwin, believed to be the son of Ida Goodwin, lived at the home of a Mrs. E. G. Trainor, 5114 Post Road, Fieldston, N. Y.)

A pontoon and a wing of the plane apparently were damaged when Vickery, a veteran of the World war and an experienced pilot, set the plane down near its ramp on the choppy surface of Lake Michigan, just off the world's fair grounds. However, he soared upward again heading for the Curtiss-Reynolds airport, apparently to avoid further trouble in the water, which was being kicked into waves by a sudden squall.

Wreckage Burns.

He was within a mile of completion of the 15-mile trip to the airport when thousands of motorists saw the machine lurch. One wing crumpled and The Northern Light operated by the Pal-Waukee airport for sight seieng purposes, plunged rapidly downward with its capacity load. The explosion followed immediately. Firemen and others hurried to the scene, but the intense heat from the flames made rescue work impossible.

After a preliminary investigation, Major H. N. Woeltjens, a coroner's investigator, expressed belief that the strut that supported the damaged pontoon broke in the air.

The body of the young Washington and Jefferson college student was identified with that of his friend, Schaller, early today by Mr. Robinson. He said the youths were graduates of Culver Military academy and had kept up a correspondence at college. They met here last week when Mr. and Mrs. Robinson and Joseph, came here to visit the fair after attending the graduation of another son, Mark, from Culver.

Officials of the fair said that insurance of $20,000 was carried on each passenger in the plane and that $500,000 blanket liability insurance carried by the fair could be applied.

Jury Is Obtained To Try Kidnapers Of McMath Child

BARNSTABLE, Mass., June 12—(AP)—A jury composed for the most part of Cape Cod tradesmen and farmers today was quickly chosen to try the brothers, Kenneth and Cyril Buck, for the kidnaping of 10-year-old Margaret "Peggy" McMath early last month.

Forty-five minutes after the first talesman was examined the jury box was filled and the court adjourned to permit a ride over the kidnaping terrain so that the jurymen might familiarize themselves with the scenes of the crime.

"Peggy" McMath was enticed from her school in Harwich on May 2 by a man in the garb of a negro chauffeur. She was recovered May 6 after her father, Neil C. McMath, former Detroit busiman, had paid $60,000 to her abductors.

FLIERS ON WAY TO HAITI UNSIGHTED

sustained flight of considerably more miles than the distance to Haiti.

It was also said that variable winds may have caused the fliers to adopt a course which would make sighting of the plane improbable.

The Columbia has a cruising speed of around 96 miles an hour. The projected flight is 2,471 miles. Before departure the fliers said they expected to reach Haiti in 24 hours. They planned to fly over Havana, Cuba, at about 8 a. m., C. S. T.

winds. It rained hard in the area both last night and today.

On arrival at Khabarovsk he was three days behind the pace set by Wiley Post and Harold Gatty in 1931, and he had given up challenging their mak of 8 days, 15 hours and 51 minutes. They, however, had remained in Khabarovsk more than a day, so Mattern can establish a solo record comparing favorably with their time.

At 1:50 a. m. Saturday Moscow time (4:50 p. m., Friday, Lincoln time) he started from Beloye, Siberia, more than 1,400 miles inland, and passed over Rukhlovo at 9:15 a. m. Saturday, Moscow time. The latter place is 720 miles from Khabarovsk, and he stopped en route to Sofish.

He lost his way soon after leaving Rukhlovo, mistaking the Zea river for the Amur. He remained at Sofisk long enough to get his bearings, but the delay cost him many hours.

Road Accident Results In Death At Hastings; Trio Of Water Tragedies During The Week End

EDNA MEVES IS FATALLY HURT

Daughter of Hall County Treasurer Dies Of Injuries.

HASTINGS, Neb., June 12—(AP)—Edna Meves, 26 of Grand Island died here at 2 a. m. today of head injuries suffered in an automobile accident Saturday night near Doniphan. She was the daughter of Hall County Treasurer Hugo Meves. The body will be taken to Grand Island.

Jean Pasewalk, 22 of Norfolk, who was riding with Miss Meves, is improving in a hospital here.

The young women had attended a picnic at Hastings and were on their way to Grand Island when the right rear tire went flat and the car plunged into a ditch and overturned.

FUEL BURNS AT GRAND ISLAND

Coal Yard Is Destroyed By Sunday Evening Blaze.

GRAND ISLAND, Neb., June 12—(AP)—Fire of undetermined origin Sunday evening destroyed a coal yard of the Nelson Lumber Co., together with a considerable portion of the contents. The loss was estimated by Herman Nelson, manager, at $8,000 to $10,000, with insurance of $6,400.

A strong notheast wind fanned the flames and the burning coal sent black clouds of smoke rolling over the city to the southwest. The department placed five streams of water on the blaze, and within half hour had the blaze under control. A barrel of turpentine in the front of the building exploded within a few minutes after the department arrived, but none was injured. Several barrels of oil also exploded. One of these was being moved by a fireman when the contents ignited. He narrowly escaped the blaze.

Place Hunters Give O'Malley No Golf Time

GREELEY, Neb., June 12—(AP)—George W. O'Malley, who was confirmed as internal revenue collector for Nebraska by the senate at Washington Saturday, sought refuge yesterday from long distance telephone calls and job seekers by playing a game of golf on the links at Spalding.

When he completed the course with a few friends, twenty-two men and six women, seeking employment in the internal revenue department, awaited him. O'Malley was unable to play a second round.

At an informal reception tendered O'Malley Saturday night, Dr. H. M. Sampson, one of the speakers, declared "The sweetest plum in Nebraska's basket of appointments has been given O'Malley."

TO ASK LOAN OF FIVE MILLIONS

Representative of Loup Power Project In Washington.

WASHINGTON, June 12—(AP)—A $5,000,000 loan will be asked of the federal government within the next few weeks to finance the Loup river power project in Nebraska, it was announced today by Harold Kramer of Columbus, secretary of the Loup river public power district.

Kramer explained he would confer with various officials in Washington, but would not apply for a loan until Fred Albert, Columbus engineer, arrives to present the project to federal engineers.

Whether funds will be asked from the reconstruction finance corporation as a direct loan, or whether it will be asked under the Wagner bill for self liquidating projects, is not certain, Kramer said.

Under Wagner's bill, 30 per cent of the sum used for labor and materials would be an outright grant or "donation," Kramer explained. He explained the district hopes to prove its project self liquidating by presenting contracts with existing distribution plants, municipal and private showing they will purchase power from the district.

Employ Many Men.

Between 1,500 and 1,700 men would be employed for two years in construction of the project, Kramer said, while 74 men would be employed permanently in its maintenance.

The project involves construction of a dam three miles west of Genoa on the Loup river, which would divert water from the steady-flowing Loup into power channels. Just north of Monroe one power plant would be built, with a 25 foot drop in the channel. The main plant would be three miles north of Columbus, at a 100 foot drop.

Arthur Mullen of Omaha, democratic national committeeman, will assist in securing the loan, Kramer said.

Kramer is setting up temporary headquarters in the office of Rep. Edgar Howard of Columbus.

WHAT'S WRONG WITH BUSINESS?

THE testimony of O. P. Van Sweringen, an American industrial captain and railroad financier, before the senate banking committee, bears careful scrutiny. Without any reflections, it should be noted that Mr. Van Sweringen and his associates built an empire out of a shoe string. That is not quite so impressive as creating a woman out of a rib, but any one who watched the meteoric progress of Van Sweringen over the last ten years will recognize that his accomplishments are entitled to respectful consideration.

Mr. Van Sweringen is troubled deeply as a result of congressional investigation. His solicitude, it is to is believed from his statements, is prompted entirely by his concern for business. He points out that business is improving everywhere, but that it needs "encouragement and not frightening" and that "these investigations are terrifically destructive." Apparently, Mr. Van Sweringen sensed that he had said the wrong thing, and started to correct himself, but did not finish. As the Kansas City Star says:

> "The second impulse was sound. There was something wrong with the statement, badly wrong. No, Mr. Van Sweringen, it is not investigations that are terrifically destructive to business. It is such actions as have been revealed through them. That's where the damage comes; and much of it already has been done. The facts are just now being exposed to view. It is such actions and practices as were bound up with the maintenance of the Morgan favored list of customers.
> "It is such as was indicated when it became known that the House of Morgan controlled a corporation, the United corporation, which in turn, controlled 22 per cent of the gas and electric business of the country.
> "It is such as were brought to light in connection with the shoe string operations of the Van Sweringens themselves, the building up of vast corporate holdings with securities running to hundreds of millions in quoted values, all with a start on a single million, often with profit to the operators and losses to the security investors.
> "It is such abuses of holding company operations, as were brought to the attention of the federal district court in St. Louis in connection with the Van Sweringen control of the Missouri-Pacific, in the purchase and sale at nearly a 3 million dollar profit of terminal properties about Kansas City, all through the Allegheny corporation, holding company.
> "That is the kind of thing that hurts business, that undermines public confidence, that destroys faith in men in high places who have been looked to as leaders."

It will not require a microscope to determine the truth of all that the Star asserts. Men have been deluding themselves. They have thought it proper for they themselves to engage in practices, which while not illegal, smash the decalogue of moral and ethical principles, and violate the first rule of common decency. None of these men broke laws. They were too shrewd, too sharp, too calculating, too cunning to break laws. They had the counsel and advice of too many able lawyers to fall into any such trap as that. At first, they, and all of their feeble little yes men, scattered throughout the country, sought to defend business activities which they knew to be fundamentally incompatible to a true democracy, and to a sound and stable nation.

Their protests are growing weaker just as one of their representatives on the witness stand, halted and fumbled and finally didn't finish.

So far as the present generations are concerned, there is no real foundation for business in the practices which were developed during a reckless, thoughtless decade. There was no real business leadership developed in that time, but on the contrary, there grew up a type of moral recklessness, of unethical thinking, which unless it is uprooted and destroyed, will make permanent recovery impossible. It shouldn't be necessary to enact laws to correct these glaring abuses. It shouldn't be necessary to adopt measures endeavoring to compel a man to be honest in the full sense of the word in his business dealings. He may justify it in any manner he sees fit, but when he stoops to take advantage of some unsuspecting, innocent victim, when he shows gross favoritism and discrimination toward select groups, when he grasps every loophole to fatten his own pocket book, he establishes no standard for citizenship and no capacity for leadership. It's silly to anticipate that that any portion of the world intends to reform and to be good, so the only alternative is a rule of law which will compel unwilling people to adopt higher conceptions of business.

SIMPLICITY THE KEY TO HAPPINESS.

"BACK to cornbread and syrup" is the slogan that former Governor Chase S. Osborn of Michigan carried to the graduates of a Georgia college in his baccalaureate address delivered a few days ago. The theme developed from his text was that this is still a good country to live in: that folks with good appetites and health can relish the common kinds of food: and that the simple way of life is the one that brings most satisfaction.

The same philosophy is voiced by Edgar Guest in many of his recent poems published by this paper—the philosophy of contentment and pleasure derived from spending one's spare time at home with his family and friends, nurturing garden flowers and shrubs, listening to bird songs, and reading worthwhile literature instead of trying to keep up with all the latest jazz and chasing an endless routine of manufactured entertainment.

"Cornbread and syrup" is not to be taken literally, nor did ex-Governor Osborn so intend the phrase in his remarks. He meant it, no doubt, to include white bread and butter with a little jelly to spread on top, fried chicken now and then, strawberry shortcake in season, and plenty of wholesome vegetables and fruits. What he was seeking to drive home into the youthful minds was that people can get along without breast of guinea hen, pate du fois gras, mushrooms, lobster in the shell, or caviar, when it is a strain upon the purse to indulge the taste for them.

"There was a time when it became the habit of many of us to despise work of the hands and desire only professional careers," Mr. Osborn said in his baccalaureate talk. "It began to be considered more honorable to be a poor doctor, or a shyster lawyer, or a slipshod teacher than a first class carpenter or a successful farmer. Now we are getting over that. Personally, I have never been able to understand why it has been interpreted as a curse that men should earn their bread by the sweat of the brow.

"There is work some place for every idle hand. It may require a geographic redistribution; a backing out of the maelstroms of the cities into the poetry and plenty of the country. Perhaps the painful lesson of the past years will have been worthwhile. Maybe men will not soon again mortgage their homes and their farms to buy cars and join golf clubs."

These are words of common sense and of hope. Life need not lose its savor because some material possessions have vanished into thin air. Let men and women take thought of the things they still have and of the means of happiness which the world affords in spite of personal hardships and reverses.

There has already been a great brightening of the horizon. Coming weeks and months may have much of good cheer in store. One who buckles bravely to his tasks of today, determined to make the most of every opportunity, will get more out of life than his neighbor who keeps looking backward and wastes his time in vain regrets over what is past and gone forever.

THE HAVELOCK SHOPS.

REPORTS from various points on the Burlington system where shops for the repair and conditioning of equipment are located, indicating a revival of activity and the return of men to work, raise the question whether discrimination is being shown by the Burlington management as against the Havelock shops. At one time, they represented the most important cog in the entire Burlington system, but ever since the troubles arising out of a strike there some years ago, the activities have been minimized and minimized, until the work carried on is but a fraction of what it formerly was. Those troubles are over and have been for a long time, and should be forgotten.

The force engaged at work in Havelock has been reduced to a mere handful, compared to the former pay roll, and the activities have been most spasmodic. Last week, 500 men were put to work at West Burlington, and increased railroad activity, if continued, may be taken to mean there will be continued additions.

It becomes a matter of pertinent interest and concern to Lincoln to discover why the Burlington seemingly prefers to do its work at other points than Havelock. Lincoln has been good to the Burlington since 1870. It gives that railroad 80 per cent of its passenger and freight business, although there are four other lines entering this city. If the Burlington is pursuing a deliberate policy of minimizing activity at the Havelock shops, still smarting under the memory of labor troubles there a considerable period ago, the business men of Lincoln, who have patronized the road generously and loyally, are entitled to know why.

The Burlington should not forget that it brought several hundred men into Havelock, that these men purchased homes, and established themselves in the community, that they have been loyal and devoted employes, and that they have gone through a great deal of suffering in recent years. When there is work to be given out, the Havelock shops are entitled to some consideration, at least.

SLEEP!

ONE paragraph in the story telling of Jimmy Mattern's plans for his flight across the Pacific from Khabarovsk, Siberia, to Nome, Alaska, will strike a responsive chord with most readers. The dispatches relate that on landing he was so tired that he fell asleep before he could give officials instructions for the next leg of his hop.

Sleep!

There isn't a human being, large or small, old or young, who hasn't experienced that feeling of extreme weariness and fatigue. There are times when the mind simply will not respond; when the body is so exhausted that the muscles ache. And then comes that most remarkable miracle of life—for when one under those circumstances tumbles into bed and in the next instant closes his eyes, to remain unconscious of all that goes on about him, to awake after several hours to a new world—the entire outlook is changed.

When one is dog tired, there comes that reaction that makes him indifferent to everything around him. He simply does not care what happens. Events, even the most trifling incidents, assume a grotesque, a twisted, a distorted significance. Paraphrasing Shakespeare's lines touching upon another word which describes one of the glamorous glories of life:

> "The quality of sleep is not strained,
> It droppeth as the gentle rain from Heaven."

Though we be weary with physical exertion, and sick in mind and heart with disappointment, a few hours rest, and the human machine has undergone those repairs which make it possible to face the world again with buoyant heart and surging hope.

THOSE RELIEF GARDENS.

WHILE the natural concern displayed toward farm crops as a result of intense heat and an absence of moisture deserves the full sympathy of the people of the bread belt, there is still another cause for worry and that relates to the effects of the dazzling heat wave upon relief gardens.

Throughout the entire country where people have been out of work, great efforts have been taken to produce vegetables to supply food for next winter. In many communities, large tracts of ground were leased for this purpose, and the work carried on under the supervision of county boards and welfare organizations. In every city of considerable size, vacant lots were utilized to produce food for those who have been unemployed for a long time, have exhausted their resources, and now are dependent upon charity. It would be a crippling blow were these sizzling June days fatal to the gardens that have been planted, and yet there is a very strong probability that the outlook will be diminished greatly, if not resulting in complete failure.

It is possible that, with the approach of fall, activities in the industrial plants, and business generally, will experience such a revival as to put hundreds of thousands back to work, thus minimizing the demand for public charity. If that happens, then all will be well. But individual communities have depleted funds available for charitable purposes over the last two and three years, and the problem of feeding people may be far more acute next winter than it has been any time during this depression. Wage earners and salaried people have suffered reductions. All through government, there has been sharp pruning. Every community chest in every city will have a much harder fight to raise its budget than it has experienced heretofore.

It was in recognition of this situation that a great many cities encouraged the wholesale planting of gardens and the wholesale preservation of vegetables. The crisis created by these excessive June temperatures has a new application.

ACCIDENTAL.

UNDER the unimpressive classification of "Accidental," the police of Douglas, Ariz., recorded a gripping tragedy.

Oliver Russell took his family camping in the mountains over the week-end. During the night he heard what he thought to be a bear prowling near the tent, grabbed a gun, and fired into the darkness in the direction of the noise, and then taking a flash light proceeded to the spot in the brush where the commotion had been. He found his five-year-old boy dead from a bullet wound. The child had been walking in his sleep.

It's an old story of men with fire arms, and when it terminates so poignantly sorrowful as in this case, it arouses a throbbing compassion and sympathy for the father who never will be able to erase this memory. The tormenting question of why he did not investigate to determine whether all the members of his family were in the tent will occur to him time and time again. That is one of the quirks of fate which is never explainable or reconcilable.

Everyday Questions

ANSWERED BY

DR. S. PARKES CADMAN

(Copyright, 1933, New York Tribune)

Questions from Lincoln Star readers are answered daily by the Rev. Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, of the Federated Council of Churches of Christ in America. Dr. Cadman seeks to answer inquiries that appear to be representative of the trends of thought in the many letters which he receives.

QUESTION.

Evanston, Ill.

What do you think of the frequent criticism that the churches are so immersed in the profit seeking ethic of business that they are incapable of real moral insight?

ANSWER.

Edmund Burke said that you cannot indict a whole nation. If the administration of justice requires anything, it is accurate and specific particularity in accusation. What Churches, or what members of Churches, are guilty of this charge? Indeed, it can be rightly asked if profit taking is an offense against the teachings of Christendom or of Israel.

Certainly the Bible forbids usury, which is the exacting of unlawful and exorbitant rates of interest. But it does not forbid a fair recompense for labor, nor for the investment of labor's product. Economists differ concerning certain features of profit taking, but they usually agree that it has a legitimate place in any free economic system.

Regarding incapacity for moral insight, I submit that no other organizations have more faithfully rebuked the crime of the rich and the follies of the poor than these self same Churches. Scan for yourself the public records of Judaism, Catholicism and Protestantism. They have exposed and denounced innumerable flagrant social wrongs and political tyrannies. They have emphasized the supremacy of Divine justice in human affairs. They have exhorted all and sundry to obey the higher laws of life.

If this is moral blindness may it increase a thousandfold. Obviously it is the salt in our national blood to save us from corruption and decay. No system of government, whether conservative or radical can safely dispense with the doctrines and teachings of the churches. They may fall short of their full meaning and realization, but they preserve their ideals. Have political and commercial organizations followed suit? I fear not.

QUESTION.

Buffalo, N. Y.

What can we do to stop speakers who weary their hearers nearly to death and ruin public meetings with their platitudes?

ANSWER.

I once preached in a Philadelphia church which was furnished with an electric bulb in the pulpit that flashed when my allotted time was nearing its end. A similar device might be an excellent deterrent for would-be saviours of a society which is not always willing to be saved by them. It could be operated to advantage by chairmen of various political assemblies, as for example, by the vice-president in the senate at Washington, and the speaker of the house of representatives.

Probably the presiding officers of our forty-eight state legislatures would welcome the means of regulating the uninterrupted flow of eloquence in those bodies. Many plans and panaceas could thus be cut short without harming the nation's welfare. Sermons might gain in point and substance if they were controlled from the pew of a deacon appointed to turn on the red spotlight.

A green flash could be given to indicate an extension of time for especially meritorious efforts of the pulpit or the platform, and a warning yellow glow to notify the speaker that he had about reached the limit of his hearers' patience.

But why limit this device to churches and public meetings? Would not a pocket-size appliance be a godsend to choke off the club bore, the conversationally inclined barber, the talkative terrors of hotels and boarding houses, or even the determined chatterbox of the home. To say the least, these good folks would hardly feel encouraged to continue if a series of red lights simultaneously appeared in every buttonhole of the tired circle around them.

But perhaps nothing can serve as an efficient deterrent for those who must either speak or explode. And of course, if any long-winded talkers also suffered from color blindness, the above suggestions would be useless.

QUESTION.

Washington, D. C.

How many things which we strive for do we really enjoy when we get them&

ANSWER.

The answer seems to depend largely on our use of leisure and the worth-while character of our objectives. For eight or more hours a day the majorityl of us have to do what duty demands of us, whether we like it or not. The rest of our pursuit and pleasures when submitted to a close appraisal show that about 75 per cent of the things the average man does he neither enjoys nor expects to enjoy. Women who are more easily pleased, probably relish a considerably higher percentage of their daily activities.

A man often makes journeys, eats, plays golf, listens to conversations, wears certain styles of clothes and spends money because the rest of his crowd do what he does and in the same way. The woman is more selective in her tastes; hence her higher, average of likes as opposed to diskiles. Cranks usually "gang their ain gait" regardless of the crowd, and are often secretly entranced with the peculiarities for which they are ridiculed. If happiness were the end of life,, who is more fortunate than the captain of his own soul, even though though he steers it into unaccustomed waters? Although independence makes for the isolation we commonly dread, who desires to be dubbed an eccentric or a nut?

Apparently only the chosen few. Yet they revel in their self-constituted paradise and don't give a rap for the criticism wasted on them. If one's challenge of conventionality is based on wisely ordered living, then he has mastered its art. Nowhere is this more verifiable than in religion. Its ardent devotees have always been self-sufficient, blessed and influential because they obeyed the impulse of a diviner being, and let the hurrying world pursue its own course.

Diet and Health

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D., Author of "THE HUMAN BODY"

HOW SCORPION STINGS VICTIM AND BEST TREATMENT FOR BITE.

In the United States, the scorpion, the tarantula and centipede, are considered the most dangerous "insect" bites within our borders. Red ants, bees and wasps, of course, are also possibilities, and actually may do more harm than the more dreaded three mentioned first.

Dr Clendening

Scorpions, while they are abundant in Texas and the southern desert states, may be found as far north as Wisconsin, along the Mississippi valley.

While botanizing in Wisconsin once, I ran into a colony of scorpions on a limestone cliff, part of a river bank. They were there by the thousands, and I afterwards heard that they were found in colonies all over the southern part of the state. I also know of my own experience that they can be found in the Missouri river valley, practically throughout its length.

Scorpion bites are made by the sharp prong at the end of the tail. They seldom occur unless the scorpion is seriously menaced or injured. Many of them occur on the foot from a scorpion which has gotten inside the shoe during the night and attacks when the owner thrusts his foot into it in the morning.

Although I saw many scorpion bites in Texas during the war, I never have seen any fatality result. The wound is frequently extremely painful, and may cause considerable swelling of the part, but seldom lasts more than two or three days. The best treatment is the use of tincture of iodine on the wound, and to surround the part with an ice pack. As in the case of snake bites, if the wound is on an extremity it is sometimes advised to put a bandage or tourniquet around the extremity and release it gradually, so as to allow only a small part of the poison to be absorbed into the body at any one time.

QUESTION.

What diet or corrective exercise is helpful in preventing appendicitis? There is a slight pain or soreness in the region of the appendix at irregular intervals. Exercise and roughage in the diet tend to relieve it."

ANSWER.

Acute appendicitis cannot be prevented by any diet or exercise. The so-called chronic appendicitis, which seems to correspond to the symptoms here described, is almost certainly not appendicitis at all, but colonic stasis, and exercise and roughage in the diet are good for it.

QUESTION.

(1) Is catarrh curable? (2) Would change of climate help? (3) Would it be better to go to a throat specialist or to a general doctor?

ANSWER.

(1) Catarrh is a general word for nearly any nasal infection, and its cure depends upon the nature of the disease, severity, etc. (2) A warm, dry climate is usually extremely helpful to catarrh patients. (3) It depends on the doctors—sometimes a good general doctor is better than a throat specialist, and vice versa.

Editor's Note: Six pamphlets by Dr. Clendening can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin, for each, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of this paper. The pamphlets are: "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene," and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

What's the use? If you don't make positive assertions, you have no convictions; if you do, you're a tiresome know it all.

Just Folks

By Edgar A. Guest

PIONEER SPIRIT.

He would not walk the certain roads
Laid out by knowledge wise,
And trimmed with little snug abodes
Where counselors advise.
The soul of him was wild to go
An independent way,
To run the risk of life and know
The dangers of the day.

He would not settle down to tread
The chartered paths and sure,
At night to tumble into bed
Soft pillowed and secure.
That restless soul of his must run,
Though friendless and alone,
Away from everything that's done
To learn what's still unknown.
He had no patience with us all
Who whispered: "Be content.
Who climbs o'er caution's sheltering wall
May die ere day be spent."
He laughed to scorn our petty fears
And tried the wall to climb,
Shouting: "Who'd live for seventy years
In safety all the time?"

He stumbled often, now and then
His body sorely burned
Into the peaceful haunts of men
For comfort he returned.
But rested and refreshed once more,
That energetic soul
Would turn his back on safety's door
To seek some dangerous goal.

Face dangers boldly. Death loves a shining mark, and it's the rear of a serge suit that shines.

But personal publicity won't help if your work is bum, and if you do good work you don't need it.

The chief trouble with this country is too darned many legal ways to steal.

Now all we need is a law to guarantee something to deposit.

A newspaper in 1879 spoke of the "roaming chickens, goats and hogs" on New York's Park avenue. The office cynic says it hasn't changed much.

Let us be thankful for vegetables. Nobody can make cheap imitations to sell at a profit despite the low price.

So live that you will have something else to give you self respect when you fail to outguess Wall street.

What a sad day for America when people learned to say "defalcation" instead of "theft."

In a land where money getting is a virte, you can't expect people to let other little virtues interfere with it.

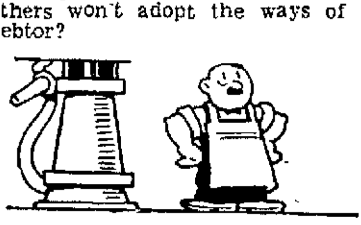
Americanism: Feeling an urge to direct the world's affairs; thinking we are doing it when we direct our affairs to please the world.

All the other nations needs to accept America's opinion of armament is a nice wide ocean on each side.

A republic is a land where free people save themselves in a crisis by having one man act as king.

Of course we can govern ourselves. And a man can keep house nicely by calling in a cleaner when the dirt gets too thick.

But why should America adopt the ways of a creditor nation if the others won't adopt the ways of a debtor?



There's one way for a grocer to get the cash business of his credit customers, he can buy a filling station.

You don't need brilliance to be a law maker. You just appropriate money you haven't got and then up the income tax again.

Chief of man's inalenable rights is that of fighting tooth and nail to preserve the others.

If a criminal lawyer is no good, he gets no business. If he is too good, the fact that he is hired means that his client is guilty.

Both doctors and undertakers are decreasing in number, thus showing how we depend on one another in this complicated civilization.

Correct this sentence: "And when I tell a panhandler I am broke, too," said the man, "he never seems to think me a liar."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

A. The 1926 census of religions enumerated 18,605,003.

Q. Which state capital has the largest population?

A. Boston, Mass.

Q. Who is the secretary of the interior?

A. Harold L. Ickles of Ilinois.

A. Minnesota.

Q. Has Great Salt Lake an outlet?

A. No.

Q. Name the largest city in the United States not situated on navigable water.

Q. Why was Governor William Sulzer of New York, impeached?

A. He was charged with having filed with the secretary of state, a false statement relative to receipts and expenditures in his campaign for governor. He was impeached and convicted in 1913. The court held him guilty and removed him from office but he was not debarred from holding other office of trust or honor or profit under the state.

Q. Why does thunder cause milk to become sour?

A. There are certain bacteria which feed on the sugar in the milk, causing it to acidulate and sour. The air is usually warmer just preceding an electrical storm, and the bacteria multiply more rapidly in warm temperatures. The souring of the milk and the electrical phenomenon are not directly connected, nor does thunder cause the milk to sour.

Q. What does "Thirty" signify in newspaper pariance?

A. The first press association, organized in Civil war times, was composed largely of morning newspapers published near the eastern seaboard. Each paper sent into the central office items of local interest, which were edited and telegraphed to all members. It happened that the first message sent to the association totaled thirty words and his figure, with the words "Good Night" and the signature of the sender were placed at the bottom of the sheet. At that time piece work was the rule on all papers. The daily grist was usually set up, corrected and in the forms by 10 o'clock, but the compositors were compelled to wait on their own time until the foreman announced that "30" was in. So "30" became a by-word among printers, symbolizing the end.

Q. Is there an easy way to cut off the neck of a glass bottle?

A. Take a piece of wrapping twine that has been saturated in turpentine or kerosene and tie it around the neck of the bottle. Ignite the twine and let it burn until it drops off. Dash water on the bottle and it will break where the twine was tied. Rub a stone around the sharp edges of the break to smooth them.

Burgess Bedtime Stories

BY THORNTON W. BURGESS.

Bully Learns to Hold His Tongue

Some folks there are who must be taught
To hold their tongues just when they ought.
—Old Mother Nature.

"I certainly will be glad when they move on," he confided to Mrs. Bully.

Bully the English Sparrow delights to strut and brag, and seemingly never is happier than when he is picking a quarrel with some one or engaged in a fight. That is why he is called Bully. It has taken the other feathered folk a long time to realize that, like most bullies, he is a bluffer to a large extent. It isn't all bluff. No, indeed. Bully is no coward. He is a valiant fighter, but he pretends to be a lot worse than he really is, and his feathered neighbors have begun to find this out. They stand up for their rights more than they used to.

Bully had boasted that he had driven Mason and Mrs. Mason the Cliff Swallows away from Farmer Brown's barn, and to do him justice he probably thought that they would return, and if they did Bully would be lucky if they didn't drive him out, whereupon he had boasted that he would like to see them try. He really hadn't the least idea that Mr. and Mrs. Mason would return.

So it was a surprise when the very first thing the next morning he heard a familiar twittering. He flew out angrily to once more drive these strangers away. They were sitting on the roof, and without a glance around Bully started for them, his feathers fluffed out to make himself look as big as possible.

"I told you to go away and stay away!" screamed Bully. "We don't want neighbors, and if you know what is good for yourselves you'll keep away from here."

And then the air seemed filled with twitterings. And it seemed filled with birds, too. They were darting all about Bully. Mason and Mrs. Mason had multiplied to a couple of dozen or more, and they all looked alike. He couldn't tell which were the two who had been there the day before, and he had no time to try to pick them out if he wanted to. He was in the middle of an angry crowd, wheeling and darting about him, dashing almost in his face, and now and then tweaking a feather loose. There were too many to fight, and he couldn't have fought them anyway, for these were masters of the air, darting in swiftly, striking, darting away, only to repeat. They were not still long enough for him to strike back.

Bully did the only thing he could do—fled. He flew straight over to the Old Orchard and sought refuge in an unoccupied house there. There he could hold his own, for only one Swallow at a time could get at him, and not very well even then. He screamed at them. He made all sorts of foolish threats of what he would do to them. Meanwhile, the other feathered folk of the Old Orchard looked on and made fun of him.

Finding that they could not get at him, the Swallows returned to the barn. Meanwhile, Mrs. Bully was wisely keeping out of sight in her nest under the eaves at one corner. She hoped that this was only a visit and that those Swallows would soon leave. After a long time Bully sneaked back home. He tried not to be seen, but just as he reached home he was seen by Mason, who darted at him. Old habit was too much for Bully, and with a scream of rage he tried to fight. That scream was unfortunate. The nearest Swallows heard it and in a jiffy a crowd of them were about the nest, making it most uncomfortable for him every time he showed himself.

At last Mason and his friends tired of what was to them sport, and left the Sparrows alone. Mrs. Bully had a few things to say to Bully, and they were not at all pleasant. But Bully had learned something. He had learned to hold his tongue. As long as he and Mrs. Bully attended to their own business and kept their tongues still they were let alone. So the usually noisy Bully became meek and as quiet as his little cousin, Chippy the Chipping Sparrow, while any of those Swallows were near.

"I certainly will be glad when they move on," he confided to Mrs. Bully. But they didn't move on. For several days they just played about. Then one morning Bully made a discovery.

TRAINMEN ARE BADLY BEATEN

Attacked By Gang In Yards At Norfolk and Roughly Used.

LONG PINE, Neb., June 12—(AP)—Conductor R. C. Demmon and Brakeman W. J. Alfson, both of Norfolk, wer epainfully but not dangerously injured here about 1 o'clock this morning when they were attacked by a gang of from three to five men shortly after they arrived here on a Northwestern train. One suspect was later captured and is now in the county jail.

Both Demmon and Alfson are in a hospital here. Demmon was severely beaten but Alfson was dazed for only a short time. Demmon in particular has numerous painful bruises on many parts of his body.

Alfson was set upon and knocked down first and then Demmon came to his rescue. Two of the gang then turned their attentions toward Demmon and he was knocked down also. Both men were brutally kicked after being knocked down.

When Alfson reached the downtown section later he recognized two of the attackers on the street and notified Marshal Frank Maust who took James Porter, recently paroled from the Kearney industrial school, into custody. The other, believed to be Harold Adams, also known as Harold Kirkpatrick, escaped and is being sought.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

How to Play AND How to Win

By JOSEPHINE CULBERTSON

PASSING FOR A SWING.

Most good contract players accept as one of their most valuable weapons the double for a takeout when holding a strong hand after one of the opponents has made an opening bid. However, good players frequently refrain from doubling when holding a type of hand which suggests that vulnerable opponents might get into trouble if left entirely to their own devices. In such cases they prefer not to warn their adversaries of what is in store for them.

Mr. Waldemar von Zedtwitz, holding the north hand below, passed twice with his powerful holding, but on the third round of bidding he decided that it was time to double for penalties.

West, dealer.
East and west vulnerable.

North: ♠ A J 7 6 4 — ♥ A 6 5 4 — ♦ 10 — ♣ A 7 6

West: ♠ 8 — ♥ K Q 10 9 3 — ♦ 5 3 2 — ♣ K Q 10 2

East: ♠ K Q 10 3 2 — ♥ J 8 — ♦ K J — ♣ 9 5 4

South: ♠ 9 — ♥ 7 2 — ♦ A Q 9 8 7 6 4 — ♣ J 8 3

The bidding:

West	North	East	South
1 ♥	Pass	1 ♠	2 ♦
2 ♥	Pass	2 ♠	Pass
3 ♣	Double	3 ♠	Pass
Pass	Double	Pass	Pass
Pass

The bidding is very interesting. Not only does Mr von Zedwitz deserve credit for his two passes, but also for the double of three clubs, designed to drive his adversaries to three spades, which, as a matter of fact, it actually did. The doubled spade contract was penalized 1400 points. North's defense was extremely fine, but even if it had been less so, east could not have avoided a penalty of 900 points.

The opening lead of a heart was won by north with the ace, and he returned the ten of diamonds, his partner winning with the queen. South then cashed the ace, upon which north discarded the club 6, and followed with the diamond 9, north discarding a heart and east ruffing. The next lead was the king of spades, which north won with the ace. North now laid down the ace of clubs, following with another club, which was won in the dummy. The declarer then cashed the knave of hearts and the queen of spades, and followed with a club, which was ruffed by north, who returned his last heart. The declarer was forced to trump and concede the last 2 tricks to Mr. von Zedtwitz.

Today's Question.

Will you please advise me if a bid made under the following circumstances is or is not a violation of the ethics of a duplicate bridge tournament?

My partner and I were playing north and south, and upon our opponents coming to our table we asked them what system they played. They responded "Culbertson in conjunction with the Vanderbilt Club." I was the dealer and passed, second and third hands passed and fourth hand opened with one no trump. Second hand then bid two of a suit, which was passed all around, and upon fourth hand going down, his hand showed less than 2½ honor-tricks.

Answer: The question you raise is an interesting one, but I do not believe that it is actually a violation of the code of ethics. Many players use the Culbertson or other systems of bidding, but modify their system in duplicate play to meet the artificial conditions of match-point scoring. Of course, if the practice was followed generally, then it might be well to consider the matter with the committee in charge.

BRITON SPRINGS A SURPRISE AT WORLD PARLEY

King George himself who welcomed the vast assembly of statesmen and experts with a solemn exhortation.

"The world is in an unquiet state" the king declared, "and for you gentlemen, who from today begin the work of restoration, the task is heavy. It will not be achieved except through good will and sincere co-operation."

Ralph W. Morrison of Texas, a member of the American delegation, commenting on the prime minister's address said that "aside from a few spots it was a fine speech," and while he did not specify it was understood that by "spots" he alluded to the war debts touch.

Pictures World's Plight.

Premier MacDonald described the economic conference as the greatest assemblage in history. He pictured dramatically the world's plight and declared "self-sufficient nationalism in economics is the death knell of advancing prosperity."

The conference chairman then followed with an impassioned appeal for an international agreement to bring the world from "the depths of misery and unsettlement."

The organization of the conference was completed today and the sessions will be continued tomorrow when Cordell Hull, American secretary of state and chief of delegation is expected to be among the speakers.

CONFERENCE HALL, London, June 12—(AP)—The world economic conference, the most momentous assembly in recent history, got under way this afternoon with delegates from virtually every nation on earth gathered to try to end the big slump.

King George himself, in acknowledgement of the importance of the occasion, formally opened the first plenary session in the great new geological museum in Kensington, despite the fact that he was suffering from severe rheumatism which recently has compelled him to avoid public appearances.

The king-emperor's address was in effect a prayer for the success of the conference which has been called to bring aid to suffering humanity.

Ramsay MacDonald, Great Britain's picturesque prime minister, who is president of the conference, followed with an impassioned plea for co-operation and action, and dealt somewhat with the machinery of the conference.

It was an impressive moment when the dignified figure of the British monarch appeared on the rostrum and he paused for a moment to survey this unique gathering of statesmen and experts representing every race, colors and creed under the sun.

King Asks Co-Operation.

The king appealed to all to cooperate for the sake of the whole world and for the material progress of civilization.

His majesty had arrived amidst cheers from the vast crowd assembled in the street in tribute to their ruler. He entered the assembly hall in the midst of absolute silence, which was the tribute of the conference delegates. He read his speech slowly and in sonorous tones.

After the translation the whole packed hall again stood and the king bowed slowly to the delegates, who bowed in turn. He then walked slowly down the steps, with Prime Minister MacDonald escorting him. Thereupon Mr. MacDonald returned and started his own address after receiving an ovation from the delegates.

He spoke in a buoyant, cheerful strain. The delegates had not stirred during the king's speech, but as Mr. MacDonald started the tension of royal formalities seemed relieved, and ripples of applause ran across the hall as the prime minister emphasized his points.

He began his address with an expression of gratitude to the king and then turned to outline the deplorable condition into which the world economic situation has fallen.

Mr. MacDonald described the occasion as of the greatest importance and referred to the conference as the greatest assemblage in the history of the world. He described the world's plight resulting from falling prices, Mal-distribution in goods and a fall of national income in some countries reaching 45 per cent.

"Cannot Go On."

"This cannot go on," the prime minister declared. "The world is being driven upon a state of things which may well bring it face to face once again—for it has happened on scales of varying extent before now —with a time in which life revolts against hardship, and the gains of the past are swept away by the forces of despair."

Referring to the war debts as another subject "in the front rank of importance," Mr. MacDonald said it was a question which could not be dealt with at the parley, "because obviously this conference is not constituted in such a way as to enable it to consider it and settle the matter."

He declared, however, that the debt problem "must be dealt with before every obstacle to general recovery has been removed, and it must be taken up without delay by the nations concerned. Lausanne has to be completed and this vexed question settled once for all in the light of present world conditions."

The prime minister uttered every word about the war debts slowly and emphatically. The greatest emphasis of his speech was placed on the phrase, "Lausanne has to be completed."

"Gentlemen's Agreement" Mode.

(At the Lausanne conference German reparations were virtually eliminated by the European recipients, who thereupon made a "gentlemen's agreement" that their action would not be effective unless the United States correspondingly scale down the war debts.)

"This conference," Mr. MacDonald continued, "is a sequel to the work done at Lausanne last year when, by a conditional agreement on how to deal with war debts and reparations, Europe was saved from immediate financial collapse."

"The self-sufficient nationalist in economics is the death knell of advancing prosperity," the British prime minister said.

At another point he asked dramatically: "If the world is left to right itself without international agreement, how long is the process of recovery to be? How dark are the depths of misery and unsettlement which have still to be gone through?

"No nation can permanently enrich itself at the expense of others. Mutual enrichment is a condition of individual enrichment."

Sensational Rise In Miscellaneous Tax Collections

WASHINGTON, June 12—(INS)—The sensational increase in miscellaneous internal revenue collections, which include the tobacco, beer and other sales and stamp taxes indicated today that for a full year's operation on the present basis more than $1,500,000,000 would be obtained from that source

Approximately $850,000,000 will be received from these sources fiscal year ending June 30. This is contrasted to about $770,000,000 for income taxes. In the 1932 fiscal year the miscellaneous collection was $503,000,000 and that from income taxes $1,057,000,000.

The manufacturers sales taxes and other new levies of the 1932 revenue act went into effect in July, 1932. Revenues from most of the taxes were satisfactory despite the low estate of business. Gradually the miscellaneous taxes passed the income taxes until they now show an excess of nearly $200,000,000, although the heavily boosted income tax rates were effective beginning with the March payment

For the first eight days of June miscellaneous internal revenue amounted to $30,330,000 more than three times that of the same period last year and compared to $35,411,000 in May, $27,912,000 in April and $25,748,000 in March.

N. U. Faculty Keeps High Morale Despite Cuts, Says Ferguson

"The great body of university faculty people is a loyal group—willing to serve and to sacrifice. The morale of this group has not been shattered although it may have been shaken. Our great task is to preserve the best that we have"

This paragraph is written by Dean O. J. Ferguson, of the college of engineering, relative to the reduced budget under which the University of Nebraska must operate for the coming biennium. The paragraph is contained in the twenty-second annual news letter sent graduates and former students of the engineering college, under the direction of Dean Ferguson.

Edited through the University Extension news service, the booklet contains a review of the past year on the campus.

CHURCH SPLIT HERE WIDENED

Rev. Sauer Declines To Surrender His Pulpit To Supply Pastor.

Members of Emanuel Reformed church Monday awaited action by higher authorities after the Rev. Conrad Sauer Sunday refused to give up his pulpit despite temporary suspension.

He was suspended last month by the Nebraska classis of the Reformed church of the United States and Rev. John Klundt of Humboldt came here Sunday as a supply pastor. The congregation of Emanuel's Reformed church, however, instructed him Rev. Sauer would give the sermon.

Rev. Mr. Sauer today declined to discuss the case.

The controversy probably will result in further action by the executive board of the church, headed by the Rev. August Dumin of Norfolk, it was reported.

The controversy may be taken to the civil courts as ownership of the church property is involved. Rev. Mr. Sauer was suspended on technical charges of alienating his congregation from the denominational organization.

Youth Jams Old Guard Into Golf's Back Row

Triumph by Goodman Spells Oblivion For Old-Timers of Links

BY DAVIS J. WALSH.

NEW YORK, June 12 — (INS) — There's something vague and beautiful on the records about the Old Guard, which dies but never surrenders, though I think the man, if properly approached, might have worked up a pretty good case for the old fullback and, besides, death is a form of surrender. If you don't think so, you should have seen the Old Guard dying out there in the hot sun of Saturday as the national open golf championship came down to its theatrical finish at the North Shore Golf club, Chicago. It was more than death. It was a surrender to the inevitable.

Not Even Adjacent.

Well out in front were Johnny Goodman, 23, and Ralph Guldahl, 22, finishing one-two for the title at 287 and 288, respectively. Next in line was Craig Wood at 290. Nearest of the Old Guard were Walter Hagen and Tommy Armour, five strokes back. The rest weren't near; they weren't even adjacent. The old line in its entirety simply expired—gallantly, perhaps, but with certainty. And I think it was permanent.

Some felt that this was no more than a circumstantial error and, indeed, when Hagen shot that record-tying 66 on the final round, many were voluble in their regret that he hadn't done this when he needed it. The point probably is that he did it because he didn't need it. In his salad and cucumber days, it might have been the other way around. But that's age. It gives you sense and all it takes in return is maybe the covering on your arteries.

Youth Plays Big Part.

Youth, anyhow, is 30 per cent of all the factors that go into the making of four rounds of championship golf. Shot-making is about 50 per cent and the rest is equal parts of experience, temperament and luck.

Goodman has more than an ample share of the first four and no less an authority than Bobby Jones has intimated rather broadly that he even has the fifth. But he can win without it. I'm not impressed with the fact that he seemed to back into this championship with his 76 on the fourth round.

Jones himself did much the same at Winged Foot in 1929, the point being that both were overtaken by the law of averages. They had had their fling. A reaction was ordained.

This didn't alter the fact in Goodman's case, that he had shot a successive 66 and 70 to win the tournament before the fourth round even started. All he did in that round was to keep it won. Moreover, he didn't wait until he was 15 strokes back to shoot his 66. He did it when everybody had a chance and his own was no better and, in some cases, worse than the other fellow's.

Dead to Stay Dead.

Offhand, I should say that Goodman is one of the reasons that will keep the Old Guard dead. He may not start another amateur dynasty like Jones's, but now that he has won his first major championship, he'll be harder than ever to beat. And, in truth, this always was difficult enough.

Guldahl must be a golfer to shoot those rounds of 70 and 71 and rush from nowhere to within a single stroke of the title. He's a tremendous hitter and, if he missed putts at the fifteenth, sixteenth and eighteenth, who is there who doesn't and won't?

Craig Wood was impressive at 290 and he's comparatively young. So are the Dutras, Olin and Mortie. Gus Moreland, the amateur, is only a boy, but nobody looked better in the stretch than he did with his 71-72 for a total of 295. Johnny Revolta, just a kid, is a much better golfer than his tie for thirteenth indicated. They say he has come on a lot from his short, choppy swing of other years and doubtless he'll come further.

Diegel's Race Is Run.

Altogether, it seemed to be a young man's tournament. Leo Diegel was never close. They say it wasn't his golf course. Still, a champion should be able to play all courses under all conditions.

Johnny Farrell is thinner than ever and his putter, once his friend and counsellor, now plays him false. John still is capable of fine rounds. But he can't string four of them together.

The tournament also wiped out the Mac Smith delusion, finally and forever. He was just another tired, old man as he sighted the line to the pin at the final green and then popped the ball less than five feet.

Has Sarazen Slipped?

As fr Sarazen, the champion who finished out behind the back fence at 303, I wouldn't want to say that a double winner of only a year ago could be through now. But some are not so sure.

Armour, of course, had his day, but I think it is significant that it was the first day, not the last. Thomas faded like an old wall flower after his dazzling 68 of the first round, five strokes ahead of the field.

Hagen? we've already gone into that. He didn't have it when he could have won; only when he couldn't.

STARS ON MARK DO THEIR STUFF

Aces of Cinders Sport To Compete This Week In Windy City.

BY WILLIAM WEEKES.

CHICAGO, June 12—(AP) — Two days and a night of rare track and field entertainment will be presented at Soldier field Friday and Saturday in the national collegiate and national inter-scholastic championship meets.

From the entry list for the N. C. A. A. carnival, the finals of which will be held Saturday night, there is no indication that any record, except the 100-yard dash, will be safe. The prep stars, entered from all sections of the country have made great marks during the season, promising a grand assault on records in their meet, in which the finals will be decided Saturday afternoon.

The struggle for the N. C. A. A. team title probably will involve Southern California, Stanford, Indiana and Michigan. The Hoosiers won the trophy last year.

Competition for Cunningham.

Originally an individual championship meet, the individual will more than ever this year hold the spotlight. Ralph Metcalfe, Marquette university's negro flyer, probably will have little difficulty in the dashes, but outside of that, no one, not even Glenn Cunningham of Kansas university, the indoor season's most brilliant middle distance star, is considered certain of victory.

Cunningham will try for two championships—the mile and the half mile. But he must beat Charles Hornbostel, Indiana's iron man, in both races. Cunningham won the mile last year in the American record time of 4:11.1. Hornbostel won the half-mile. In the shorter race, both must beat Ben Eastman of Stanford, world record-holder for the distance.

Bill Bonthron of Princeton, winner of the 800 and 1,500-meter races in the I. C. 4-A championships, may also arrange to compete and further complicate the situation.

Krenk To Hurl For Power In Night Game

Ernie Krenk will do the pitching for the Iowa-Nebraska Power baseball club in a City league game at Landis field Wednesday night. Nietzel or Bool will be at the receiving end.

Powers meets Roberts Dairy in the first night game of the City league season.

LINCOLN ON TOP IN TENNIS DUEL

Netters of Capital City In Slashing Victory Over Omaha.

BY GREGG McBRIDE.

OMAHA, Neb, June 12—The Omaha Tennis club received its most decisive defeat in local racquet history Sunday afternoon when the 10-man team of the Lincoln Tennis club hung a 11-4 defeat on the Omaha netsters in the first of a series of four inter-city matches. The capital city team had a convincing edge in both singles and doubles competition, winning seven of the 10 singles matches and capturing four of the five doubles events.

Paul Halpine, Omaha city champion, defeated Paul Mahood, Lincoln city and state champion, in the feature match of the day. Halpine captured the first set with the loss of only one game, but Mahood rallied to take the second set at 6-4 and had match-point on the third set before he lost it at 5-7.

Hoag Defeats Cassidy.

Art Hoag, who has returned to Nebraska tennis circles this summer, surprised Omaha fans by defeating Leo Cassidy, recent winner of the Omaha Tennis club spring tournament. Hoag lost the first set after 10 hard-fought games, but uncorked a spectacular overhead to sweep through the next two sets with the loss of a single game.

In the doubles, Hoag teamed with Wilbur Haegen to beat Paul Halpine and Jack Ringwalt, state championship pair, in three long sets, 6-4, 5-7, 8-6. A return match will be played at the Lincoln Tennis club during July.

PROS COMPETE IN SPECIAL TOURNEY

CHICAGO, June 12—(INS)—Because some of the professionals were in a hurry to get home and consequently played two rounds in a single day, there were two leaders today in the $1,000 North Shore open golf tournament.

One is Frank Walsh of Bryn Mawr, runner-up for the national pro championship last year. Walsh cut two strokes off par with a 70 for the best single round of the day. The other is Ky Laffoon, Denver professional, who took the 36-hole lead with a 72 and a 73.

Other 36-hole scores: Bill Schwartz, St. Louis, 147; Bob Barnett, Washington, D. C, 147; Orville White, St. Louis, 148; Al Espinosa, Akron; 148; Bobby Cruickshank, Richmond, Va, 149 and Mel Shorey, Washington, 151.

Jockey Victim Lake Michigan Drowning

CHICAGO, June 12—(INS)—The body of Eugene James, 20, who rode Burgoo King to a Kentucky derby victory in 1932, was sent to Louisville today for burial. James was drowned in Lake Michigan yesterday when he attempted to swim out to a breakwater.

COLLINS BACK TO BASEBALL DUDS

Mack Invites Eddie To Serve as Coach For A. L. All-Stars.

CHICAGO, June 12—(AP)—Eddie Collins, vice-president and general manager of the Boston Red Sox, will get back into uniform when the stars of the American and National leagues meet at Comiskey park July 6.

Collins has accepted an invitation from Connie Mack, his old boss, who will manage the American leaguers, to serve as coach. Mack also will be assisted by Art Fletcher, New York Yankee coach and a former star shortstop with the New York Giants under John McGraw, who will lead the National league team.

The latest voting on National leaguers:

First base—Terry, New York, 102,211; Bottomley, Cincinnati, 30,159.

Coast Spurns Bear U. Plan

SPOKANE, Wash., June 12—(AP)—Pacific Coast conference colleges and universities may broadcast 1933 football games, under certain restrictions, but they cannot recruit promising prep school athletes without running into trouble.

These two decisions comprise the chief business transacted by faculty representatives and graduate managers of the 10 conference schools at the semi-annual meeting here last week-end.

Editor's note: The University of California announced recently that an alumni organization at the Berkeley institution, known as the "Big C," would operate in the open with a recruiting scheme designed to attract promising athletes to California U.)

Max Falls Hard For Beautiful Actress

HOLLYWOOD, Cal, June 12—(INS)—Displaying a "championship smile," Miss June Knight, pretty musical comedy star, today embarked upon a motion picture career with a hint that her romance with Max Baer, prominent heavyweight fighter, may lead to marriage.

"Are the wedding bells going to ring for us? Well, you never can tell," said Miss Knight evasively, but huge boquets of roses and frequent telegrams from Baer seem more positive in nature.

"Max, you know, still is a married man and there's plenty of time for lots to happen. Are we still that way about each other? What do you think?" and Miss Knight flashed that "championship smile."

Miss Knight delayed her visit to the coast long enough enough to watch Baer defeat Max Schmeling last Thursday night.

Mrs. Dorothy Baer has pending a divorce suit in Sacramento, Cal, against the big heavyweight, charging cruelty.

GOODMAN FACES BIG OBJECTIVE

Johnny Has Keen Desire Win Amateur Title At Cincinnati.

BY ALAN GOULD.

NEW YORK, June 12 — (AP) — Johnny Goodman, sensational amateur winner of the 1933 national open gold championship, isn't going to turn professional for at least two big reasons, although he might "cash in" on his brilliant victory at Chicago to the tune of $25,000 within the year.

The 23-year-old Nebraskan's two big objectives are to add the national amateur championship to his laurels at Cincinnati this September, duplicating the rare "double" achieved only by Chick Evans and Bob Jones, thereby making it impossible for the United States Golf association to leave him off the Walker cup team again when the forces are assembled for a British invasion in 1934.

If there's one factor besides a naturally keen and aggressive spirit that has spurred Johnny Goodman to the heights of golf within the past year, it is that he was not named among the 10 leading American amateurs for the 1932 Walker cup team. It irritated the mid-west and filled the Omaha youth with a determination to prove it was a big mistake.

Tops Them All Now.

Most everyone recalls how Goodman, carrying on a solo vendetta, trounced three stars of the Walker cup team in the last national amateur at Baltimore, including Captain Francis Ouimet. He was the best American in the tournament, even though he lost in the final to Ross Somerville of Canada.

Now that he holds the national open championship, no golfer in the United States, amateur or professional, can dispute Goodman's place at the top of the list. Whether or not Johnny can sustain his present dazzling pace and go on to a succession of triumphs, the fact today is that he has picked up where Robert T. Jones, Jr, left off in 1930 as golf's foremost "double threat." He's a champion at 23 and getting better.

That "Compact Swing."

The Nebraskan is much along the aggressive type of Gene Sarazen, who never figured in the defense of his title and wound up in a tie for twenty-sixth place, 16 strokes behind the winner. Goodman has what the professionals describe as a "compact swing." He used the overlapping grip, hits the ball with a slightly shut club face and generally gets a low-flying shot.

His iron play is perhaps his strongest point, but he is a consistent putter and has streaks of sheer genius around the greens. He holed out twice from off the green for eagles during the championship. He took only 26 putts on each of his sub-par rounds, but he seldom left himself a long approach putt.

"Goodman has a sound game and should go far, whether or not he turns pro," said Sarazen today. "It's a good thing for the game to have a self-made fellow like that make good. I have no alibis for the licking I took. I simply lost my swing. I will be lucky to get it back in time for the Ryder cup matches and British open."

Victory Without Fluke.

There was no "fluke about Goodman's victory at the North Shore club Saturday, although he was somewhat fortunate to save the margin of a single stroke on the last round against the dramatic closing rush of Ralph Guldahl, 22-year-old St. Louis professional.

Guldahl, nine strokes behind with only 15 holes to go as he alone had a chance to overtake the leader, twice pulled up to even terms with Goodman. He made a remarkable rally, only to miss a four-foot putt on the last green that would have given him a tie and necessitated a play-off Sunday.

Goodman shot successive rounds of 75-66-70-76 for 287, within one stroke of the tournament record. His 66 equalled the all-time low score for a single round. He was never headed after wresting the lead from Tommy Armour's 68-75 start and he pulled himself together like a champion at the finish, after a slump that almost cost him the title.

First Prize to Guldahl.

Guldahl, strictly a "dark horse" in a field of fallen favorites, had rounds of 76-71-70-71 for a total of 288. His uphill fight to overtake Goodman furnished the most exciting drama of the tournament and clinched the top prize money of $1,000.

Armour failed to capitalize his great start and finished fourth, with 292, tied by Walter Hagen's great closing round of 66, which included a penalty of stroke and distance for driving out of bounds. They were just behind Craig Wood of Deal, N. J, who had four consistent rounds for third low total of 290, adding $750 to his money winnings, the biggest of any pro this year.

CURLEY IN MOOD TO CROWN CHAMP

New York Mat Promoter Plots Pack Them In At Yank Stadium.

BY PAT ROBINSON.

NEW YORK, June 12—(INS)—The Hon Jacques Curley, a man who could almost pay off the national debt if he had what it has cost him to feed his various herds of human pachyderms in the last 30 years, is about to wish another of his heavyweight "rasslin" affairs on an unsuspecting public.

The scene is the Yankee stadium, the time tonight and the principals Jim Browning of Missouri and Joe Savoldi of Notre Dame and Michigan. Curley anticipates an attendance of 30,000.

Mr Browning is champion of certain sections of the world's surface and Mr Savoldi would like to be, and Mr Curley has promised the winner a chance to exchange grunts and grimaces with Mr Don George, who is champion of such sections as are not covered by Mr. Browning and Mr. Jim Londos.

What Mr. Londos is champion of doesn't count in Mr Curley's estimation, so when the boys get through doing business we'll have an undisputed champion—that is, a champion undisputed by everybody except Mr Londos and his adherents.

Cardinals Set Back In Pennant Chase By Smoky City's Pirates

BY LES CONKLIN.

NEW YORK, June 12—(INS)—Pittsburgh's uncanny ability to whip the Cardinals is keeping the Pirates in the thick of the National league pennant race and holding up the drive of the Cards. Although they have played little better than .500 ball against the other six clubs, the Bucs have whipped St. Louis six times in seven starts. Pittsburgh's double win over the Red Birds yesterday took a lot of starch out of Gabby Street's men. Trailing by six runs in the ninth inning of the first game, the Pirates touched off the greatest concentrated scoring display of the National league season. They shelled Hallahan and Carleton off the hill and further maltreated Dizzy Dean, Street's third ace, to score 10 runs and win, 11 to 7. Lloyd Waner of the Pirates and Ripper Collins of the Cards each got four hits.

French Applies Whitewash.

St. Louis folded up completely in the nightcap and was blanked by Larry French, 3 to 0. It was the Pirate's fourth straight victory and put them only half a game behind the second-place Cardinals.

Hal Schumacher, young pitcher of the league-leading Giants who will be hailed as a hero when he receives his B S degree at St. Lawrence university today, didn't look like one when the Phillies knocked him out of the box in the fourth inning, scored six runs and beat New York, 7 to 5. Vergez hit two homers for the Giants.

New York had won seven straight and Schumacher had copped four straight, but he never has beaten the Phillies.

Cubs Nose Ahead of Reds.

After losing their fifth straight game at Redland field this year, 5 to 4, the Chicago Cubs nosed out Cincinnati, 9 to 8, when Benton hit Stephenson with a pitched ball with the bases full.

Randy Moore's homer with two on base staked the Braves to a 6 to 4 verdict over Brooklyn. The Dodgers annexed the nightcap, 5 to 2, despite Biff Berger's eleventh homer of the year, which gave the Boston outfielder the lead in the National league home run derby.

Only 8,000 fans turned out for Walter Johnson's official debut as manager at Cleveland. Pitcher Oral Hildebrand put on a one-man show to get the "Big Train" off to a flying start. Going in as relief pitcher with the bases jammed in the tenth inning and only one out, Hildebrand stopped the Browns cold. Then he nicked Bumps Hadley for a single that drove in the only run of the game.

Yanks Divide Twin Bill.

The Yankees and Red Sox broke even in two awful ball games in which 12 errors were made. Gehrig's thirteenth homer, another by Chapman and two errors by Outfielder Roy Johnson in the ninth inning of the opener enabled the champions to grab an 8 to 7 decision, their ninth straight win over the Sox this year. In the second game, a six-inning affair, the Sox nicked Ruffing and Moore for 16 hits, but it took Jolley's second homer of the day, in the final frame, to give them an 11 to 9 triumph.

Al Simmons batted in every Chicago run with two homers and two singles as the White Sox subdued Detroit, 6 to 1. The Tigers took the nightcap, 5 to 3, thanks to "Schoolboy" Rowe's hurling and four Chicago errors.

Goose Goslin collected four of Washington's 19 hits and Schulte drove in six runs as the Nats outslugged the Athletics, 13 to 6. Jimmy Foxx of the A's smacked his fourteenth homer, tying Babe Ruth for the lead in the home run derby.

LINKS SET SAIL ON CIRCUIT TOUR

Bennett Club Blanked By Canaries in Finale of Home Stand.

Lincoln hit the road Monday for a tour of the State league circuit, after a home stand during which the Links won four of nine games. Before moving on to Beatrice, Lincoln suffered a 5-0 shutout at the hands of the Sioux Falls club Sunday evening.

Conaway, Canary twirler, held the Links to five hits. One of these bingles was off the bat of Steve Hokuf, former Nebraska varsity athlete, who made his debut in left field. Cauble, on the hill for Lincoln, allowed only six hits, but his mates kicked away four chances in the field.

The proceedings were enlivened by an argument between Manager "Doc" Bennett of the Links and Umpire Augur. Bennett was chased off the field in the second frame. Score:

Feather Champion Goes On In Ring Against Baby Arizmendi.

NEW YORK, June 12—(AP)—Featherweights assume full control of the boxing situation this week, with Freddie Miller of Cincinnati, Johnny Pena of New York and Varias Milling of Los Angeles in the headline roles.

To Pena and Milling will go the honor of fighting the first 15-round bout in Illinois since that state's boxing laws recently were amended, meeting Wednesday night at Chicago.

Miller, holder of the N. B. A. featherweight crown, will face Baby Arizmendi, Mexican flash, in a 10-rounder at San Francisco tonight. Miller handed the Mexican a trouncing in a title match at Los Angeles in February.

OMAHA JOBLESS IN DISTURBANCE

Fist Fight Is Averted In Office County Commissioners.

OMAHA, June 12— (AP) —Fifty county charity wards registered a protest against present relief methods before Douglas county commissioners today in a meeting which ended in turmoil and nearly in blows

The jobless men and women were members of the unemployed workers council Charles E Gray, one of their leaders, nearly came to blows with George Redding, head of the unemployed married men's council, when he accused Redding of being a "fake leader '

Gray told the commissioners the crowd wanted an answer to its demands of last week for cash pay on county work, more frequent grocery orders, free gas, water, electric light and ice, and federal relief aid.

Commissioner Frank Riha told the petitioners that citizens of the county had spent more than $1,000,000 on relief in the past year and could not do more

"This board will not be bullied or coerced by any imported or self styled leaders whose purpose it is to incite the unfortunate men and women now without employment," he said

Redding leaped up after Gray's remark and made for Gray, but County Commissioner Frank Mahoney stepped between them and quieted them Riha soon after adjourned the meeting

The Seward law firm of Thomas & Vail, which has lost its two members to political positions since the first of the year, probably will be continued for a time with someone in charge of the business, Assistant Attorney General Edwin Vail said Monday

Vail took the position in the attorney general's office in January. J J Thomas, state chairman of the democratic party, continued in charge of the law business of the firm however After confirmation of his appointment as a member of the federal reserve board, Thomas left Saturday for Washington, D. C. Thomas will make his home in Washington but expects to return to Seward this week to close up his affairs there.

—lagging appetite

There is a reasonable way to correct this condition. Pause and reason. You know that body weakness is frequently the result of a weak blood "picture"—lowering of the red-blood-cells and their hemoglobin—that are so very necessary to strength and vitality.

Then why not try S S S—the proven tonic for decades? Its value has been proved by extensive scientific research and by millions of happy users.

Take S.S S. and note the way your strength and appetite are restored Two convenient sizes at all drug stores—the larger size is more economical Don't permit any one to switch" you in your determination to restore your red-blood-cells and their hemoglobin content for regaining strength. © The S S S Co

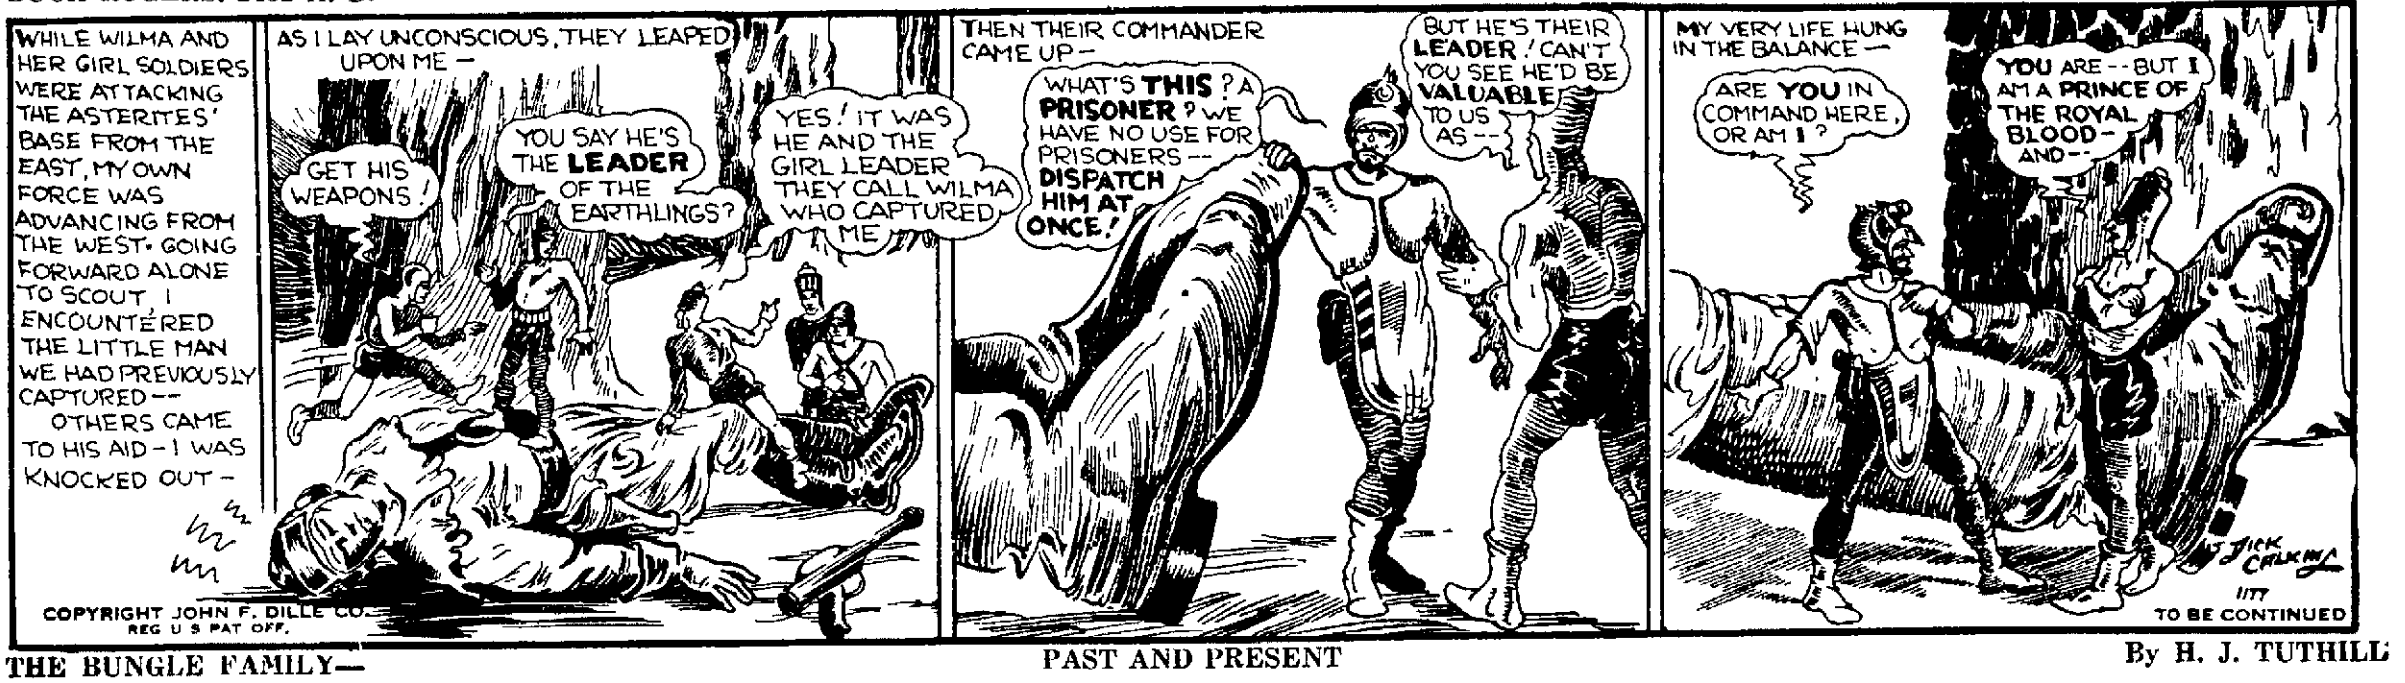
IN DESPERATE PLIGHT

By PHIL NOWLAN and DICK CALKINS



WHILE WILMA AND HER GIRL SOLDIERS WERE ATTACKING THE ASTERITES' BASE FROM THE EAST, MY OWN FORCE WAS ADVANCING FROM THE WEST. GOING FORWARD ALONE TO SCOUT, I ENCOUNTERED THE LITTLE MAN WE HAD PREVIOUSLY CAPTURED -- OTHERS CAME TO HIS AID - I WAS KNOCKED OUT -
AS I LAY UNCONSCIOUS, THEY LEAPED UPON ME — GET HIS WEAPONS!
YOU SAY HE'S THE LEADER OF THE EARTHLINGS?
YES! IT WAS HE AND THE GIRL LEADER THEY CALL WILMA WHO CAPTURED ME
THEN THEIR COMMANDER CAME UP —
WHAT'S THIS? A PRISONER? WE HAVE NO USE FOR PRISONERS -- DISPATCH HIM AT ONCE!
BUT HE'S THEIR LEADER! CAN'T YOU SEE HE'D BE VALUABLE TO US AS --
MY VERY LIFE HUNG IN THE BALANCE —
ARE YOU IN COMMAND HERE, OR AM I?
YOU ARE -- BUT I AM A PRINCE OF THE ROYAL BLOOD — AND --

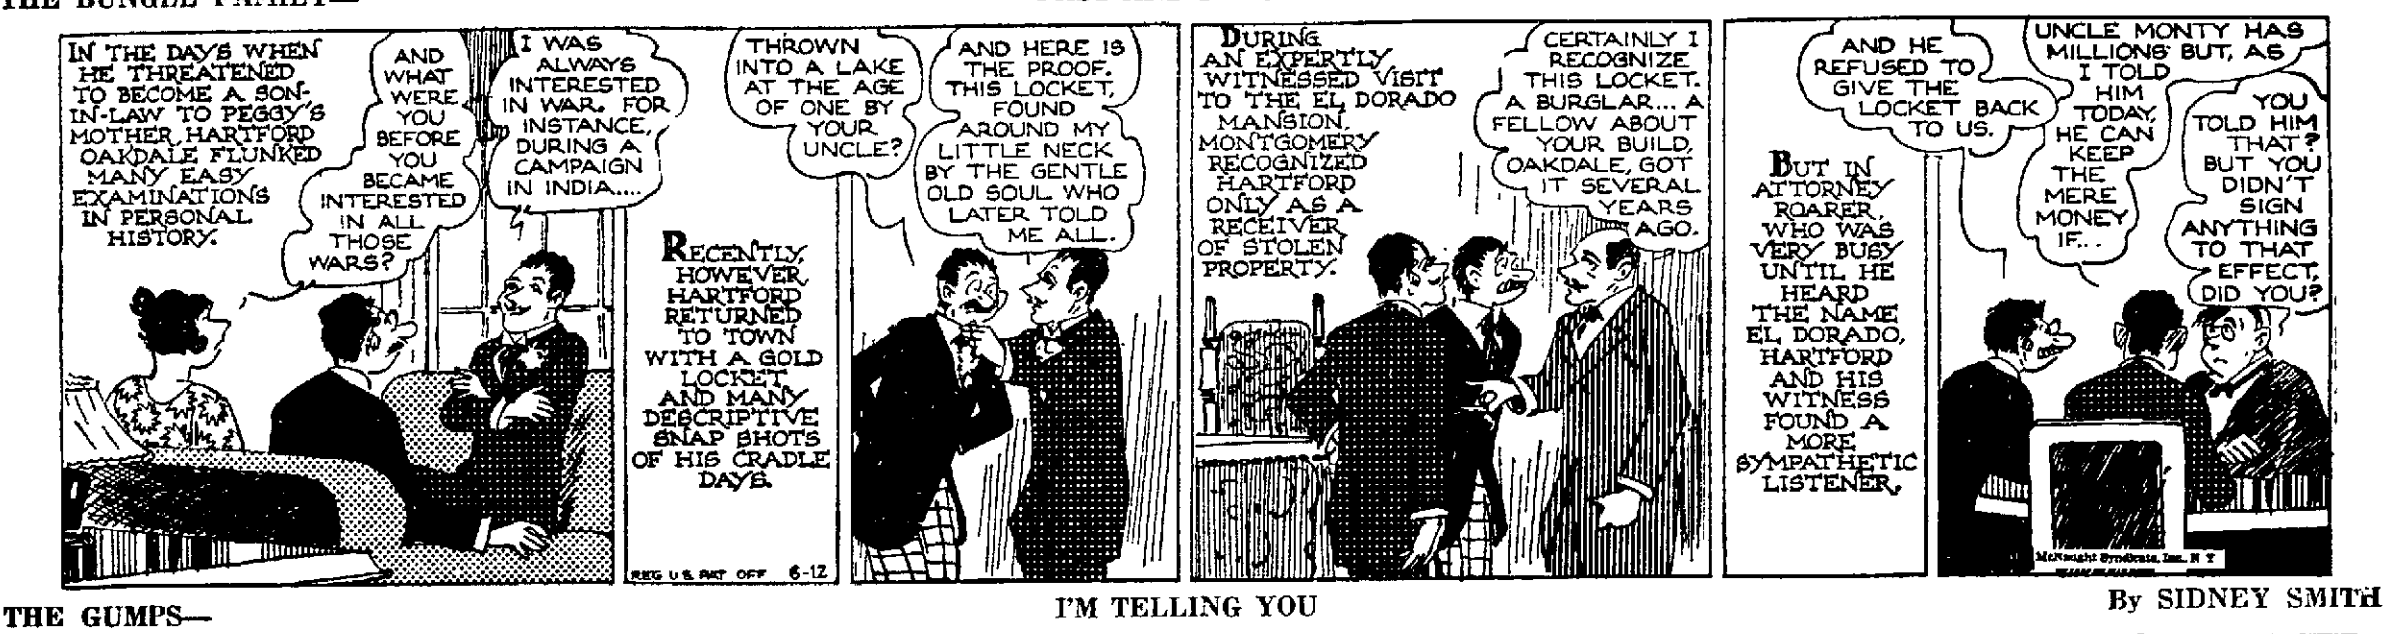
PAST AND PRESENT

By H. J. TUTHILL



IN THE DAYS WHEN HE THREATENED TO BECOME A SON-IN-LAW TO PEGGY'S MOTHER, HARTFORD OAKDALE FLUNKED MANY EASY EXAMINATIONS IN PERSONAL HISTORY.
AND WHAT WERE YOU BEFORE YOU BECAME INTERESTED IN ALL THOSE WARS?
I WAS ALWAYS INTERESTED IN WAR. FOR INSTANCE, DURING A CAMPAIGN IN INDIA....
RECENTLY, HOWEVER, HARTFORD RETURNED TO TOWN WITH A GOLD LOCKET AND MANY DESCRIPTIVE SNAP SHOTS OF HIS CRADLE DAYS.
THROWN INTO A LAKE AT THE AGE OF ONE BY YOUR UNCLE?
AND HERE IS THE PROOF. THIS LOCKET, FOUND AROUND MY LITTLE NECK BY THE GENTLE OLD SOUL WHO LATER TOLD ME ALL.
DURING AN EXPERTLY WITNESSED VISIT TO THE EL DORADO MANSION, MONTGOMERY RECOGNIZED HARTFORD ONLY AS A RECEIVER OF STOLEN PROPERTY.
CERTAINLY I RECOGNIZE THIS LOCKET. A BURGLAR... A FELLOW ABOUT YOUR BUILD, OAKDALE, GOT IT SEVERAL YEARS AGO.
BUT IN ATTORNEY ROARER, WHO WAS VERY BUSY UNTIL HE HEARD THE NAME EL DORADO, HARTFORD AND HIS WITNESS FOUND A MORE SYMPATHETIC LISTENER.
AND HE REFUSED TO GIVE THE LOCKET BACK TO US.
UNCLE MONTY HAS MILLIONS BUT, AS I TOLD HIM TODAY, HE CAN KEEP THE MERE MONEY IF...
YOU TOLD HIM THAT? BUT YOU DIDN'T SIGN ANYTHING TO THAT EFFECT, DID YOU?

Another Stock Market Rush Carries Prices Up 1 To 3 Or More Points; Closing Tone Strong

Shares Advance In Trading Wave

Utilities and Rails In Van of Push; Industrials Close Behind.

NEW YORK, June 12—(AP)—Early hesitancy in the stock market today was succeeded by another rush for equities which carried prices up 1 to 3 or more points with trading volume greatly accelerated. Utilities and rails were in the van of the forward push with the industrials not far behind. The close was strong. Transfers approximated 5,500,000 shares.

Net gains in freight car traffic spurred the carriers to further buoyancy while various utilities responded to reports of greatly enhanced earnings. While commodities were narrowly irregular most of the time, wheat rallied smartly and cotton improved. The American dollar recovered briskly in foreign exchange markets and bonds firmed after drifting uncertainly in the first hour.

American Telephone ran considerably ahead of the general market with a gain of around 7 points to a new high for the year and its best day's performance in some time. Gains of 1 to around 3 were held by such utilities as Consolidated Gas, North American, International Telephone, Western Union, Public Service of New Jersey, United Corporation and Columbia Gas. Case and National Distillers were up about 3 and 4 points, respectively, while advances of around 1 to 3 or more were registered by U. S. Steel, American Can, Du Pont, National Biscuit, Allied Chemical, Santa Fe, Union Pacific, Chesapeake & Ohio, Delaware & Hudson, U. S. Industrial Alcohol, Johns Manville, Chrysler, National Cash Register, Standard Oil of New Jersey and New York Central.

Chesapeake & Ohio reported revenue freight car loadings for the week ended June 10 about 3,000 above those of the previous week and nearly 8,000 higher than in the same 1932 period. Santa Fe's car loadings were up around 2,000 for the same week and around 560 over those of the 1932 week.

Stocks milled about narrowly in the early trading today, having eased slightly after a moderate buying flurry at the opening. Utilities continued firm while industrials and rails were steady to firm.

U. S. Steel and Santa Fe were up about 1½ each. Other shares up around 1 or so included American Telephone, Johns-Manville, Consolidated Gas, Public Service of New Jersey, Columbia Gas, Gotham Silk and North American. Consolidated Oil and Standard Oil of New Jersey were firm spots among petroleum shares. General Motors, Case and Westinghouse were steady while American Can and Western Union dipped slightly. Call money renewed at 1 per cent.

With the opening of the world economic conference at London, discussion in the financial community was largely centered on the practical results which might accrue. Much interest was accorded the report that the responsible heads of the central banks of England, France and the federal reserve had practically decided upon the basis at which currencies of these countries should be stabilized. This is, of course, one of the primary purposes of the economic conference and one which will have a major effect upon the development of our trade.

In the domestic field wide attention was focused upon the week-end report that the rise in the United States Steel Corporation's unfilled steel tonnage was the largest since early in 1931. Steel operations last week were 48 per cent of capacity, an advance of 1 per cent according to the trade review "Steel."

Foreign exchanges opened strong against the dollar. Sterling stood at $4.18, a week end spurt of 4¼ cents, while French francs stood at 4.87 cents, a gain of 6½ points.

Rails shares came in for heavy buying in the second hour. By noon Union Pacific and Santa Fe had advanced around 3 points each while New York Central, Delaware & Hudson and Baltimore & Hudson were up 1 to 2. Among utilities Commonwealth & Southern and United Corporation, firmed major fractions in heavy trading.

Wheat Mounts to New High Records

Chicago Market Closes Strong, 1 to 1½ Above Saturday Finish.

CHICAGO, June 12—(AP)—Wheat advanced late today, responsive largely to an upward swing of securities.

Speculative demand came about also as a reflection of generally unfavorable crop reports from the United States winter wheat belt, especially indications of premature ripening in soft wheat areas east of the Mississippi river. New wheat has started to move in volume in the southwest, with around 200 cars received today at interior terminals in Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas.

All deliveries of wheat mounted to new high records, and closed strong at the topmost point attained, 1@1½ cents above Saturday's finish, July 77¾@77⅞c, Sep. 79⅞@80c; corn unchanged to ⅛c up, July 46⅛@46½c, Sep. 48⅞@49c; oats ¼@⅝c advanced, and provisions unchanged to 5 cents off.

Influenced by a change to cooler weather with rains in scattered districts, wheat prices averaged lower early today. A steep rise in British exchange was virtually ignored. Opening ⅜c off to ⅛c up, wheat afterward declined all around. Corn started ⅜ to ¾c down, and subsequently sagged further.

Bearish effects of the break of the heat wave were somewhat offset by indications that temperatures would rise again starting tomorrow. Buying on wheat price declines resulted also from reports that crop conditions east of the Mississippi river were developing very unsatisfactory features, and that high temperatures and drying winds had caused soil to bake and crack, catching wheat in the critical stage of bloom and dough. Crop experts suggested threshing returns in soft wheat territory were likely to prove disappointing.

Rallies in wheat values to about Saturday's finish ensued after the market had shown a general setback of a cent a bushel. The Kansas state grain inspector was quoted as saying hot winds and excessive heat had caused the state to face one of its worst crop failures. Some notice was also taken of Russian reports that there had been five consecutive weeks of excessive rainfall in Ukrainia and the valley of the Don affecting more than 15,000,000 acres of wheat land. Corn and oats largely followed wheat market changes.

Provisions averaged higher, responsive to hog price upturns.

About midsession, wheat was unchanged to ⅜ lower, compared with Saturday's finish, and corn was ¾@1 cent off.

Corn receipts in Chicago today totaled 420 cars, a week ago 509, and a year ago 25.

PARIS, June 12—(AP)—PARIS—Prices on the bourse held steady awaiting developments at the world economic conference. Gold mining and oil shares improved while rentes with the exception of the three per cent issues declined slightly. The closing was sustained.

BERLIN, June 12—(AP)—BERLIN—The tone of the bourse was unsettled today.

NEW YORK BOND REVIEW.

NEW YORK, June 12—(AP)—Bonds showed no definite trend today, though most groups had fair quotas of advances. Some of the secondary rails and utilities were disposed to seek lower levels.

Irregularity of price movements in the rail division was emphasized by a fairly large number gains of a point or so against an equal number of losses. Those registering improvement included some loans of the Baltimore & Ohio, Southern Railway, Erie, New York Central, Chicago & Northwestern, and Santa Fe. Heaviness ruled in most obligations of the Missouri Pacific, Delaware & Hudson, Allegheny corporation and Illinois Central.

The communications issues had a fair rebound from their sharp dips of Saturday. Postal Telegraph 5s rose more than 2 points, while Western Union 5s and International Telephone issues picked up a point or more. American & Foreign Power 5s rallied after early heaviness. High grade utilities were firm.

Industrial loans were mixed with most of the coppers off slightly on further realizing. Rubber issues were also easy. National Dairy Products 5¼s were steady. Oils moved within narrow ranges.

U. S. governments were firm within a shade of the previous finals. The foreign groups was generally steady with moderate advances in Brazilian and German issues.

NEW YORK CURB REVIEW.

NEW YORK, June 12—(AP)—Curb stocks made substantial progress today on a buying movement that coincided with weakness of the dollar in foreign exchange markets.

Trading was fairly brisk at times and all groups participated in the price appreciation, though industrials and specialties again were strongest. Oils assumed considerable prominence on the upside, while utilities moved up rather vigorously.

Gorham manufacturing, Tubize Matillion "A," Ferro Enameling, Driver Harris, Merganthaler, Scoville Manufacturing, Seaman Mos. and selected industries jumped 2 to 4 points or so. Singer Manufacturing, whose directors have declared another quarterly dividend of $1.50, was up a couple of points in the early dealings. Humble Oil got well across 80.

Electric Bond & Share, Commonwealth Edison, the Standard Power & Light issues and Consolidated Gas of Baltimore strengthened 1 to more than 2.

New York Sugar.

NEW YORK, June 12—(AP)—Reports from Washington that the administration would not change the duty on Cuban sugar until the industry had agreed upon some allotment plan was followed by sharp reactions in sugar futures today. There was heavy selling by houses with Cuban connections, as well as by tired ones. July contracts after selling at 1.42 reacting to 1.36 while March broke from 1.57 to 1.51. Chicago Livestock.

(U. S. Department of Agriculture.)

CHICAGO, June 12—(AP)—The hog market rebounded from the depths today on the strength of more normal receipts and more seasonable weather. The upturn ranged from 10 to 20 cents and carried the top back to $4.80.

Trading was active with choice hogs of desirable weights selling readily at $4.50 to $4.75. The four major packers were not buying, chiefly because the major portion of their wants was satisfied with 15,000 hogs on direct billing—more than half the run.

Supplies at the 12 principal markets were 45,000 head smaller than a week ago and prices turned upward from 5 to 20 cents in moderately active dealings. Receipts were somewhat larger than a year ago.

The entire cattle run was offered on the open market and fell far short of the liberal supply marketed last Monday. Cooler weather following in the wake of the record country-wide June heat wave was expected to revive consumer appetites and provide a broader outlet for dressed meats. Holders of grain finished beeves asked higher prices as this class is becoming scarce, but trade was generally steady.

Optimism pervaded the sheep sheds as sellers manouvered for a better position from which to force fat lamb prices back to the season's peak. Of the 10,000 in the run, 4,000 went direct to packers and the remainder were hardly sufficient to meet even the artificially limited requirements. However, early trade was generally steady with a strong undertone.

HIGHER PRICES SHELVE RELIEF

Farmers Aided for Time Being by Upturn In Products.

Wallace Puts Off Doing Anything With Acreage Reduction Plan.

WASHINGTON, June 12—(AP)—The upward sweep of farm prices is shelving for the time being many of the extraordinary new powers for relief extended to government farm officials by congress

This rise, credited in part by government statisticians to inflationary influences, has greatly increased potential farm purchasing power, long dammed by low prices and surplus production Every important farm product has shown an increase, one of them, wool, advancing 74 per cent to its approimate pre-war level.

Congress enacted more far-reaching agricultural legislation during the three-month session than its predecessors have put on the statute books in any decade. The farm adjustment act, the $2,000,000,000 mortgage refinancing law, and an act completing consolidation of federal argricultural credit agencies, were the most important.

All in Farmer's Favor.

The adjustment act has as its goal returning purchasing power of farmers to its pre-war status. So far the advance in prices has affected materials the farmer sells without measurably increasing the cost of goods he most commonly buys.

Secretary Wallace believes acreage reduction is necessary in the case of wheat, cotton and corn, and that hog and livestock production should be cut.

But he is convinced that undertaking any program of production curtailment while prices are "on the rise" is difficult because the farmer will be less willing to retire acreage.

The rise also has stemmed the expected rush of farm debtors and creditors to avail themselves of the mortgage refinancing act

Creditors, apparently hold new hope of improvement in land values with the result that they are now holding off instead of rushing to compose mortgages at lower figures

SENATE IN AN UGLY MOOD AS WIND-UP NEARS

Tonight New Goal To Adjourn; Opposition Girds for Battle.

WASHINGTON, June 12—(AP)—A new surge of the Roosevelt forces was launched in congress today to force the senate into line for final adjournment by nightfall.

The majority leaders, their plans revitalized at a late night conference with the president, carried the battle against the obstructions which, at the last hour, had killed the ambitious plan of winding up the extra session with a bang last Saturday midnight.

Tonight was the new goal, looked upon with optimism. Tomorrow night was the latest hour the democratic pilots would allow in their public predictions of the close. But their job was a big one, for the revolt against quitting had shaped itself in several different directions, against legislation which ranked with the most controversial of the session, and the week-end respite had given the oppositionists time to hunt for support, prepare speeches and map out some more fight.

House Is Restive.

All hung upon the senate, for the house had wound up all it could do Saturday and was standing by for final ratification of the measures being completed, and to vote adjournment. The representatives, however, were restive also, many ready to kick over the traces the moment anything went seriously wrong in the senate, particularly on the veterans' economy legislation.

Today's intended program was:

Adoption by the senate of the industry recovery-public works bill conference report, already accepted by the house.

Acceptance by the senate of the independent offices supply bill carrying the veterans' compensation funds, cut considerably from the high figures the senate had voted, but readjusted in a Roosevelt compromise which the house has accepted.

Passage by the senate of a last-minute $3,500,000,000 appropriation bill, largest in U. S. peacetime history, to permit launching the public works program and the Muscle Shoals and Tennessee development plan; to finance administration of the new federal "blue sky" law, the new employment service, various farm and farm credit enterprises, and the home mortgage relief program.

Keys to Adjournment.

Those three actions are the keys to adjournment. A few other bills may be squeezed in between, but once the big jobs are out of the way, there will be no holding back of the adjournment resolution.

The week-end delay, however, had brought fresh hope to the backers of the Glass-Steagall bank reform act. A hurried call was sent out for a new meeting of conferees this morning to try to break the many weeks' deadlock. A petition was hastily circulated in the house, and was reported to have a good many signatures, binding the signers to try to put off adjournment until that bill could be passed. The Roosevelt men, however, were non-committal, and preponderant opinion was that it would be let ride until the January term.

The crux of the Saturday night revolt, which won delay after house and senate had been kept at work until 11 o'clock, was a last-minute list of bureau reorganization orders which the president sent up late in the day, with the intention that they should take effect without congregational ratification 60 days hence.

Senatorial Wrath Boils Over.

At that senatorial wrath boiled over. No one had a chance to see what was in the orders; several professed fear that the executive might be trying to put something over them and, piled on top of displeasure of several at defeat of their ideas in the industrial and veterans legislation, it proved the final straw.

But the leaders believed major opposition to the reorganization plans had been dissipated by a chance to study them.

What they looked for was more fight against removal from the industrial bill of the La Follette outright order for publicity on all income tax returns; more opposition to removal from the same bill of the Borah amndment to prohibit price-fixing in the anti-trust law suspension for industrial agreements; renewed attacks to increase veterans' funds beyond the limit set by the president.

BOEING RESISTS GASOLINE TAX

Objects To Reopening Of Injunction Case In Court Here.

The Boeing Air Transport Inc. Monday started its fight in district court against steps being taken by Attorney General Paul Good to have the state gasoline tax applied to gasoline used in air traffic.

Good filed a petition recently to modify an injunction obtained by the Boeing company in 1930 with restrains the state from collecting a tax on the gasoline used by planes. The attorney general based his application on a late United States supreme court case, holding that gasoline used in planes was subject to a tax in Wyoming under a law of that state.

The Boeing company, answering the application of the attorney general, declares that the injunction granted in Nebraska relied on a United States supreme case which went up from Kentucky. It was stipulated between the state and the air transportation company at the time the injunction was granted, it is claimed, that the case should be reopened only in case the United States supreme court modified its holding in the Kentucky case. Claim is made that, despite the Wyoming case, the court has not altered its stand taken in the Kentucky case. The court is asked accordingly, to dismiss Good's application.

FARMER BADLY CUT IN FIGHT

May Die As Result Of Battle With Two Mexicans.

SUTHERLAND, Neb., June 12—(AP) — J. E. Farrell, farmer living about two miles west of here, is in a hospital and not expected to live as a result of trouble with two Mexican beet tenders.

Meager reports of the controversy were that a fight developed in which one Mexican drew a knife and slashed Farrel across the stomach twice, after which Farrel broke the Mexican's hand with a hammer and then hit him over the head.

The Mexican, whose name was not learned, was taken to North Platte and may recover.

Contracts Awarded On All Except One Gravel Project in Last Batch

Contracts have been let to low bidders on all of the gravel projects included in the letting last week except one, State Engineer Roy Cochran said Monday. Cochran said that the bid on furnishing gravel for 6.5 miles of road between Hay Springs and Rushville in Sheridan county seemed high and that it was being checked. He declared that freight charges might account for the price, however. The total amount of work included in the letting last week was $102,725.

Samuel Jessup, eccentric wealthy old English, spent the last 25 years of his life satisfying his abnormal craving for medicine. Beginning when he was 40 years old, Jessup suddenly acquired a taste for medicines of many kinds—powders, pills and liquids—which stayed with him the rest of his life.

All in all, Jessup took about a quarter of a million pills, drank 40,000 bottles of medicine, and ate countless powders between 1791 and 1816. The more medicine he took the more he wanted, and the more he wanted the more he took until, two years before his death, he reached an all time high with 51,190 pills—almost a thousand a week—for the year 1814.

Jessup's medicine bill is a strange court document in Heckington, Lincolnshire, England. When his apothecary was unable to collect for Jessup's many doses, he took the matter to court and produced an itemized bill that ran 55 closely written columns.

Jessup died when he was 65 years old. Whether he lived to that age because of or in spite of his pills and powders is, of course, a matter of conjecture.

Trial of John Steffy $51,250 Damage Suit Begins Before Jury

Trial of a $51,250 damage suit brought by John Steffy against Abel Construction Co., Roberts Construction Co., and the A. T. Stweart Co., started before a jury in District Judge Broady's court Monday.

Steffy claims his automobile struck a platform trailer belonging to the defendant companies on the highway between Gretna and Ashland last July 19, causing him to suffer serious injuries. He claims that the trailer and truck drawing it were parked on the highway without lights. Steffy was employed as a traveling motor agency supervisor for the General Motors Corp., at a salary of $300 monthly at the time of the accident, it is stated.

The defendant companies admit the occurrence of the accident but claim it was entirely due to negligence on the part of Steffy. Claim is made that the truck and trailer were not parked but proceeding down the road at the time of the accident. It is further claimed that Frank Moran, an employe of the defendants, was standing on the rear end of the trailer waving a rer lantern at the time of the accident.

THE WEATHER

High pressure is centered over North Dakota and Saskatchewan and extends down the Missouri valley, bringing northerly and much cooler air. The cool air, meeting the warm air and forcing it up, produced showers in South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, western Missouri and eastern Colorado. Showers and cooler weather have also reached the region of the Great Lakes but fair and warm weather continues in the Ohio valley and the north Atlantic states. There has been light rain in the gulf and south Atlantic states.

MINERVA'S MAIL

TAKE YOUR TROUBLES TO MINERVA

Worthy Habt.

Praise is a life elixir—a mental TNT.

If you think you are immune to flattery, or the voiced appreciation, just watch your reactions the next time someone hands you a boquet of compliments. If your pulse doesn't quicken and your mind scintillate with a new freshness, then you are emotionally dead.

What appreciation does to you, it likewise does to others. If you, therefore, wish to contribute to the happiness of your family and friends, jog yourself to speak up concerning the nice things you think about them.

We so often think to ourselves 'How pretty Anne looks today," or "I am mighty proud of John's advancement in business," but say nothing about it. Why be so stingy? And so careless?

When we can bring a glow into another life through praise, it is certainly very much worth while.

Insincere praise is fulsome and tiresome. It is the sincere thoughts of commendation which we repress that I would have us bring more freely to the surface, and hand on to brighten the days and give encouragement to another.

If you have the habit of repression, through shyness or fear of seeming over-enthusiastic, it will be somewhat difficult at first to give natural voice to what you sincerely think. But, ease will come with usage, and it's a habit well worth cultivating.

Too Particular.

Dear Mnerva: I think you gave Louise and all of us good advice on how to be more popular, but I feel that one should always act natural, too, or it will not make others feel at ease around one.

My advice to "Louise" is that she just hasn't found the right man yet. When she does, he will want to do the wooing and will love her for her own individual character. Love will make him seem grand to her, though to others he may seem no different than the other girls' husbands who don't seem desirable to "Louise."

I believe she's too particular and proud and too inclined to judge a man by his good looks and outward appearance which doesn't make for lasting happiness.

If I were "Louise" I wouldn't worry so about the men but try to fall for the one who falls for her. Men are keen judges in spite of their vanity. They don't like to be "roped into" anything.—MARTIN.

A. Thank you for your letter. It's good, sound advice.

School Rules Resented.

Dear Minerva: Why do the schools penalize a child so heavily when he is tardy? Usually, it is the mother's fault rather than the child's, because she doesn't get up early enough or doesn't hurry the youngster off in time to catch his car or bus, or walk his way to school in time.

My youngsters would both rather miss school than face the teacher when tardy. I've had them both come back home when they learned they were going to be late, and I could not persuade them to go on. I think there is something wrong with a system that would encourage a child to miss school rather than arrive a few minutes late.—MRS. B. L. B.

A. Children must learn routine and discipline in school as well as their three R's with trimmings. It is in school that they learn the important lessons of abiding by rules made for all, with special dispensations made for none. If teachers were lax and lenient in the tardy ules, it would prove detrimental to all the children. If your children prefer being absent rather than meet a tardiness-punishment, then it is because they know you will trump up some excuse for their absence, which you cannot do for tardiness. If it is your fault that they are tardy, it is too bad, but it isn't possible for teachers to discipline the parents, only through the children.

The school rules are all made for the many, and are sound. You cannot fail to recognize this if you will disassociate yourself from the personal grievances of your own offspring.

HALL NAMED IN PREMIUM SUIT

Receiver Of Insurance Firm Asks Court To Order Payment.

Request for a court order drecting State Treasurer George E. Hall to turn over a $5,000 warrant to State Insurance Commissioner Lee Herdman was made in District court Monday in a supplemental petition to a case in which the receiver of a New York insurance company is seeking payment of a premium on Hall's bond.

The case was filed originally against Herdman by George S. Van Schaick, receiver of the National Surety Co. in his capacity as superintendent of insurance for the state of New York. Van Schaick claimed that the Nebraska legslature in its last session directed payment of the $5,000 premium to the New York company.

Hall has declined to give Herdman a warrant for this payment on the ground that there is no assurance that the state is beng furnished a valid bond or that the successor to the nsolvent insurance company will not ask a new premium.

Van Schaick's supplemental petition also asks that the National Surety Corporation, successor to the National Surety Co., be made a defendant in the case.

CLOTHES BURNED FROM HIS BODY

Little Hope For Recovery of M. C. Warren Of Omaha.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia., June 12—(AP)—M. C. Warren of Omaha was burned dangerously today in a fire of undetermined origin in the Parawax company's plant here. Warren who is vice president and secretary of the company, was taken to a local hospital, where little hope was held for his recovery.

The fire occurred in the compounding room where Warren was alone. L. Shafer, a salesman, was in the front office when he heard cries for help. As he opened the door Warren fell across the floor, his clothing burned from his body.

The flames spread through the plant and were giving firemen a stubborn battle shortly before noon.

DOUGLAS' ARM BROKEN.

TECUMSEH, Neb., June 12—(AP)—J. B. Douglas, member of the state game commisson, suffered a broken arm in a haying accident Saturday. The double tree of a heavily loaded hay wagon broke, and the lines, wrapped about his arm, jerked Douglas off.

MANY OF STATE SALARIES UNCUT

Large Number Employes Escaped Economy Axe Of Legislature.

If the legislature of Nebraska intended at its recent session to effect a general and thoroughgoing reduction of salaries in all departments of the state government, it failed by a wide margin to hit the mark.

While the solons made radical cuts in appropriations for the University of Nebraska, the state normal schools, and the 17 institutions under the board of control, which will force very substantial downward revisions in their payrolls, it overlooked many places where salaries might have been lowered directly.

Officers' Cuts Delayed.

The bill trimming the pay of constitutional officers and supreme and district court judges will not bring any immediate changes in the official and judicial compensation scale, under court decisions and rulings of the attorney general that these will not become effective until after the present terms have been completed. As to code department heads and their administrative assistants, reductions are now in force either by legislative fiat or Governor Bryan's action, these officers not being protected by the same constitutional provision against changing their salaries during their terms.

There was a companion measure before the legislature proposing to cut the pay of all appointive officers, assistants and employes in the service of the state 20 per cent, but it failed to get through.

Among the departments that escape any salary cuts whatever by reason of this omission is the Nebraska national guard. Adjutant General H. J. Paul will continue to draw $4,000 a year and Assistant Adjutant General H. C. Stein $2,700, these being fixed by Statute. Others in the military service who will go on as before are Major W. E. McConaughey, field secretary, at $2,100; Beulah Minnich, chief clerk, $150; three stenographers at $100, $95, and $90 a month, respectively; and R. W. Reim, caretaker of the Ashland rifle range, at $110.

Sheriff's Pay Unchanged.

The state sheriff's office has suffered no pay slash as yet, but with its appropriation lowered from $75,000 to $50,000 for the next fiscal biennium the salaries will necessarily go down after July 1. State Sheriff Endres is still drawing $4,000 a year; W. E. Schroeder, finger print expert, $2,400; five deputies, each $2,100; and two assistants, $135 a month apiece. Harold Hulfish, one of the deputies, has resigned, however, to join the Lincoln police force, and will not be replaced.

Vocational education came through the legislative session without any cuts in pay. Its salary list includes: C. A. Fulmer, director, $5,000; Sidney Owen, Birdie Vorhies, L. D. Clements, and J. R. Jewell, supervisors, each $3,500; J. R. Reed, field agent, $2,400; an office secretary at $1,500; a part time field agent at $87.50 per month; and three stenographers at $100 a month each.

The game and park board force also passed through the legislative economy conflagration without suffering any burns. Chief Game Warden F. B. O'Connell is paid $3,600 a year; superintendents and foremen of the various fish hatcheries get from $125 to $200 a month; caretakers of the state parks, from $50 to 166.67 a month; foreman of the seining crew, $150; deputy game wardens, inspectors, and office employes, from $90 to $120 a month.

Deputies Immune.

All deputy state executive offiofficers, together with governor's secretary and the secretaries of the state railway commission and the board of control, are immune from salary reduction. Their pay is fixed uniformly by law at $2,640 a year each and no change was made as to them.

Labor Commissioner Cecil Matthews has the distinction of being the only code department head to miss a pay cut. He will continue to draw $3,000 a year, the legislature having left him at that figue. One of his aides, F. A. Dutton, likewise came through unscathed, his stipend being $2,100. Another assistant, Stephen Vail, was lowered in April from $2,400 to $2,200.

State Fire Marshal L. J. Butcher is still drawing his pay at the rate of $2,100 a year, but he took a $300 cut two years ago. He has six deputies at $140 a month each whose rating has not been changed.

The caretaker force at the capitol, which is under the land commissioner's office, includes about 36 people, most of whom draw from $90 to $175 a month. Aside from two elevator girls who were reduced $5 a month each and the colored messenger from $100 to $50, their pay is on the same basis as heretofore.

Harding Bliss Wins Second Scholarship

The $1,070 Connecticut water commission fellowship at Yale university has been awarded for the second time to Harding Bliss, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Bliss, 1427 D street, Lincoln, according to word received by his parents from Harding.

Harding was graduated from the University of Illinois in chemical engineering, and has been taking graduate studies at Yale on the fellowship. He will come to Lincoln soon to spend the summer.

Y. M. Emblem Club To Present Awards

Sixty-eight members of the Emblem club of the Y. M. C. A. will receive awards at the annual picnic of the organization, to be held Tuesday evening at Camp Strader. The picnic is to last from 5 to 10 o'clock, with dinner to be served at 6 o'clock.

Boy Badly Injured In Swimming Pool

KEARNEY, Neb., June 12—(AP)—Robert Thrasher, 15, was in a critical condition today from striking his head in a dive at the V. F. W. swmmng pool. The accident happened yesterday. Thrasher was hauled out of the water by Dick Hartford and Elton Mercer. Prompt use of an inhalator purchased only last week by the city started him breathing again, but the shock of striking the bottom of the pool resulted in partial paralysis of the lower part of his body.

W. H. Simpson Dead

CHICAGO, June 12—(AP)—W. H. Simpson, assistant general passenger agent of the Santa Fe railroad and an employe of the road for 51 years, died in a hospital today after an emergency operation. He was 75 years old.

Born in 1858 at Lawrence, Kas., Simpson was a graduate of the University of Kansas and went to work July 1, 1881, for the Santa Fe as a clerk on the advertising department of the road's offices at Topeka.

HARRY WEINER TELLS OF FIRE

Owner of Millard Hotel Witness In Arson, Murder Trial.

OMAHA, June 12—(AP)—Harry Weiner, owner of the fire destroyed Millard hotel, went on the witness stand in his own defense in District court today as the state pressed charges of murder and arson.

First questions put by A. V. Shotwell, his counsel, regarded location of rooms in the hotel. Charges were filed against Weiner following the death of seven firemen in the blaze the night of February 8.

From the stand as the second week of his trial started, Weiner related that two days before the fire that destroyed the hotel he and a hotel porter had discovered a blaze in the switchbox in the rehearsal room on the second floor. The porter brought a bucket of water, Weiner said, and he threw it on the blaze. He then called the engineer to make repairs. The later blaze was believed to have originated in this room also.

The night before the big fire, Weiner said, he had gone to the laundry room, where repairs had been made on frozen steampipes. Returning through the hallway, he heard water leaking. The sound led him to the rehearsal room, where he discovered a sprinkler head was broken and sending a spray to the ceiling. He said he called to the engineer, and then hoisted a ladder kept in the room so that the break could be reached for repairs.

Asked about the buildings condition Weiner said he spent $86,000 improving the building and $55,000 on new equipment. He said that, at the time of the fire, he had $142,000 worth of insurance on the building.

Miner C. Dill Is Dead at Belvidere

(Special to The Star.)

BELVIDERE, Neb., June 12 — Miner C. Dill, 80, for a great many years president of the Thayer County Farmers, Mutual Fire Insurance Co. of Belvidere, died at his home at 11:30 p. m. Saturday. Funeral services will be held at Belvidere at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday, and burial will be in Belvidere cemetery. Mr. Dill had headed his company for several decades until it now has over $8,000,000 insurance in force among the farmers of Thayer county. It is the oldest farmers mutual company in operation in Nebraska. He leaves a wife, four daughers and two sons. He had lived in Belvidere over 50 years.

Action on Banking Reform Predicted

WASHINGTON, June 12—(AP)—A compromise on the banking reform dispute appeared probable today as congressional conferees made an eleventh hour attempt for agreement following a conference with President Roosevelt.

Chairman Steagall of the house banking committee and Representative Goldsborough, democrat, Maryland, conferred with the president and returned to the capitol for a special meeting of the conference committee, predicting some banking legislation at this session.

They withheld details of their hoped-for compromise.

"We will have a banking bill before adjournment," said Steagall.

Senate Virtually Kills Municipal Bankruptcy Law

WASHINGTON, June 12—(AP)—The senate today rejected without a record vote a move to take up the municipal bankruptcy bill without waiting for a report from the committee in charge. The action virtually kille dthe legislation for this session.

The motion by Senator Vandenberg, republican, Michigan, was rejected after Senator Robinson, the democratic leader, appealed to his colleagues "not to embark on so large an enterprise" at this time.

Vandenberg demanded action on the bill, which already has passed the house, to meet what he characterized as a "critical situation" in municipal financing.

Senator Reed, republican, Pennsylvania, also opposed the motion on the ground that it would "result in destroying the borrowing power of municipalities."

OLEO TAX BILL VETOED.

SACRAMENTO, June 12—(AP)—Governor Rolph's veto of a bill imposing an 8 cent per pound tax on oleomargarine made of Philippine cocoanut oil was on file with the legislature today. The governor said the bill would not help California farmers and that it threatened to injure the state's export trade with the Philippines.

That makes Jack's frowns fly out of sight,
The Quaker Oats Smile—
that's all-right!
The Smile that won't come off.

Creamy richness
—luscious flavor
—extra nourishment

Quick Quaker Oats gives richer flavor . . . finer nourishment than other oatmeals because of the exclusive Quaker process which includes:

1—The use of choicest oats.
2—Better flavor due to roasting through 10 different ovens.
3—Further enrichment by the use of modern ultra violet rays. U. S. Patent No. 1,680,818.

THE SALVATION ARMY

"TOUGH AND LUCKY"
As a Noted Educator and Former Nebraskan Puts It

TODAY this world is a tough old place. But it is not tough enough to put the Salvation Army out of business. Let us hope it never will be. Else all of us are likely to be put out.

An army is said to travel on its stomach. The Salvation Army travels to victory because it has a soul. Giving to the Salvation Army is not in these days an act of old-time charity. It is a present day civic duty. If the Army this year is denied the means of carrying on its time-tested work, then all of us will be losers. It is a lucky day for anyone to have a chance to help the Army as it serves those out of luck.

EDWARD C. ELLIOTT,
President, Purdue University.

SOMETIME in the week of June 25 YOU will be asked to make your subscription to the Salvation Army during the organized effort to secure a service fund of $15,000 with which to finance the emergency relief, welfare and spiritual activities of the "HUMAN SALVAGE CORPS" in Lincoln for the next twelve months.
